IS TO GO ABROAD

Horse Fred Button to Race on the Pacific Coast.

SOLD BY MR. OUDERKIRK

High Quality Discovered by Accident—A Road showing—Col. Parker's Miss-Jockey Club.

John Ouderkirk, the contractor, yesterday sold his remarkable pacing horse Fred Button to "Bob" Ballentyne and F. L. Dortch. It is said that the price was $1300 and it is generally remarked amongst horsemen that the purchasers have secured a rare bargain. All who are interested in racing will regret to learn that the present intention of Messrs. Ballentyne and Dortch is to send Fred Button to the coast and that in probability the famous green horse will not start in a race here. Men in the ranks of the fancy say that Fred Button, for use on the circuits in California, is a veritable gold mine. As the horse has no record he is eligible to events in which it will be simply impossible for him to lose. For months he will be able to sweep everything before him
and when he reaches the company of
the top notchers the present holders
of the very best records will be in danger. Mr. Ouderkirk says that the horse will show a mile in 2:04. It was thought during Sunday, up to 5 o'clock
in the afternoon, that Col. Sam'l Parker would become the owner of Fred Button. Col. Parker had an option on
the horse at $1000 and was to say yes
or no at 5 o'clock. The Colonel was about five minutes late in keeping the
engagement and in the meantime Mr.
Ouderkirk had changed his mind about selling. Between Sunday evening and
Monday morning Mr. Ouderkirk
turned the matter over in his mind
and decided that he had best dispose
of the property. He was asked by Messrs. Ballentyne and Dortch to name a figure and did so. The deal was closed on the spot. The new owners take over all the trappings.

Fred Button is a six-year-old son of Alexander Button, known the world
over as the sire of fast ones. There is a strong strain of thoroughbred on the side of the dam of Fred Button,
giving the horse that courage so necessary for success in the harness. Fred Button has been in the country less than six months. Mr. Ouderkirk paid
$150 for the horse, intending to use it
only in a driving cart. "Of course,"
says Mr. Ouderkirk, "I knew that he had a license to do some traveling,
but he was so green that he was not
gaited at all and I never had any serious thought that he might be a racer.
That he did have speed was discovered
to me quite by accident. I was driving out Beretania street one evening and
the way the horse handled himself
simply disgusted me. He didn't seem to be able to take three strides alike.
He was just naturally unhandy and
uncertain in his gait. He would trot
and pace and canter and walk and gal-
lop. I think I lost patience a little and gave him a pretty sharp cut with
the whip. I was just beyond Thomas
Square and I remember seeing 'Jack' McCandless sitting on his lariat and I nodded and smiled to 'Jack' as that horse sailed along at a rate that was simply hair-raising. He paced squarely at railroad speed and I said to myself that he was a prize-package that
had been wrapped up the wrong way
and from which the label had been lost. I don't think yet that Button has ever traveled as fast as he did that evening when I woke him up quite by accident. Very soon after that I placed him with McManus at the track. Some people here can scarcely believe that Fred Button is a green
horse, but I am positive of it and

there are a couple of men in town who
have known him from colthood and
who know that he never had a trial of
any sort. As Cunningham says, he is
a horse in a thousand and the men
who have him ought to do pretty well
with him before giving him a fast
mark."

Fred Button has been the wonder of
all who have frequented or visited the race track. From the first he has been a little awkward in harness, but all
the time it has been evident that he
was threatened with speed of the first quality. With his training on he has improved in gait till he is as true a pacer as ever seen here. The horse
has responded to every call from three minutes down to 2:13. Gentlemen
capable of judging say that Mr. Ouder-
kirk's prediction of a 2:04 record for
the horse is quite conservative.

Almost Sold Himself.

"Ned" Macfarlane had a warm desire to enliven the afternoon session
of the Honolulu Stock Exchange yesterday. He offered a favorite security at $224, then at $223. Next, just to show that he was willing to make a
turn and encourage trading, he bid $221 on the stock he had placed in the
asked list $2 more. As some one remarked at the moment, Mr. Macfarlane had to scale back a trifle to go on record as making a deal with himself.

"Bid" and "asked" are the same on
a couple of stocks handled on 'Change.
The explanation of this is that the
blocks offered and the blocks desired
are of different sizes. For instance,
one dealer wanted thirty shares of Ki-
hel and was willing to pay $16.50.
There was a man across the table who
would sell at $16.50, but he could not break into a block of 100 shares.

The Chief's War Chest.

One of the Honolulu boys now in Manila as a soldier lad for Uncle Sam
writes that he was with a party capturing a treasure believed to be the
war chest of Aguinaldo. "We were very sorry," he says, "that we were unable to get closer to the rebel
himself, but we may have better luck
in the future. The box that we happened on was fully identified as part
of the personal baggage of the rascal
who is giving all so much trouble. It contained nearly 25,000 Mexican dollars, which is quite an amount of money for this country. I suppose that the people of the Islands, the
same as some of the folk in the States,
think we get a share of treasure, or loot. Not a bit of it. Everything must be turned in. Men have been severely punished when detected in trying to get away with ever so little. The army leaders seem to want the corps
to make a reputation for honesty."

Good Advertising Matter.

The first of the advertising matter
to be issued by the Toyo Kisen Kaisha
line of steamers has been received by the local agents, H. Hackfeld & Co. It
is a well-printed book of over 100
pages, in which are many cuts showing
typical scenes of the various countries
touched by this line. Hawaii comes in
for a flattering write-up, illustrated
with a number of views. One of the prettiest cuts in the book is that showing the Hongkong Maru. Japan, China and the Philippines are treated in an interesting manner.

New Japanese Chapel.

The new Japanese chapel at Makiki
was dedicated last evening. Appropriate sermons were preached by Rev. O.
H. Gulick and Rev. Okumura. There were about eight yepople present at the services. The building was completed only a few days ago. Funds
have been supplied entirely by the Japanese Church. Services will be held
there next Sunday morning, afternoon
and evening.

LINCOLN'S GETTYSBURG SPEECH.

Four score and seven years ago our Fathers brought forth on this Continent a new Nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great Civil War, testing whether that Nation, or any Nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure.

We are met on a great battlefield of that war.
We have come together to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that Nation might live.

It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.
But, in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate—we cannot consecrate
—we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men who struggled here have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or to detract.

The world will little note nor long remember what we say here,
but it can never forget what they did here.

It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced.

It is, rather, for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion.

That we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died
in vain.

That this Nation under God, shall have a new birth of Freedom.
And that Government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the Earth.

Articles of association and incorporation of the McBryde Sugar Co., Ltd.

Be it known that Alexander H. Mc-
Bryde and W. D. McBryde, of Waha-
wa, Island of Kauai, and B. F. Dilling-
ham, D. P. R. Isenberg and F. W. Mac-
farlane, of Honolulu, Island of Oahu,
Hawaiian Islands, do hereby mutually covenant and agree with each other as follows:

1. That they will become associated
and hereby do associate themselves together as a joint stock company and
corporation under the laws of the Hawaiian Islands for the term and upon
the conditions hereinafter set forth.
2. That the name of the corporation hereby agreed to be incorporated
shall be the "McBryde Sugar Co., Ltd."
3. The term of existence of said
corporation shall be fifty years from date of date hereof.
4. The place of the principal office
of said corporation shall be at Honolulu aforesaid with a branch office on the Island of Kauai, on which last
named island all meetings of the board
of directors shall be held.
5. The purposes of the corporation
and the object for which the same is
formed are as follows:

To acquire the McBryde Estate, Ltd., a corporation incorporated under the laws of the Hawaiian Islands and from Mrs. Elizabeth A. McBryde and
A. Dreier certain lands in fee simple and under lease and other property on said Island of Kauai.

To plant, cultivate and raise sugar
cane and other agricultural products,
and the same or any of such products
to manufacture into sugar and molasses or other products, either refined or unrefined, and generally to carry on a sugar plantation and general agricultural business, and also to conduct and carry on a general ranching business.

To acquire, construct, maintain and
operate water rights, pumping plants,
reservoirs, ditches, pipes, flumes, electric and other works necessary or proper for the purpose of irrigation or otherwise on the Island of Kauai.

To do and transact any other act or
business, agricultural, mercantile, mechanical or otherwise which may be necessary, useful or convenient to the business of the corporation or to any
portion of said business.

The amount of capital stock
of said corporation shall be $3,500,000, divided into 175,000
shares of the par value of $20 with the privilege of any time,
upon the vote of the stockholders of
said corporation representing a majority of the shares thereof, of extending the capital stock from time to time by
the issuance of new shares of said par
value, to any amount not to exceed in any event $10,000,000.

The officers of said corporation shall
be a president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and auditor, and a board of five directors, who shall have exclusive charge, control and management of the company's property and
affairs, subject only to the direction of
the stockholders.

The officers of secretary and treasurer
may be held by the same person.
Said officers shall hold office for the term of one year.

The persons to fill such offices for
the first year shall be:

D. P. R. Isenberg, president.
B. F. Dillingham, vice president.
F. W. Macfarlane, secretary.
E. E. Paxton, treasurer.
Henry Holmes, Auditor.
Directors—Geo. H. Fairchild, Albert
H. Wilcox, J. K. Farley, Alex. M. Mc-
Bryde, W. D. McBryde.

9. All property of the corporation
shall be liable for the just debts there-
of, but no stockholder shall be individually liable for the debts of the corporation beyond the amount due upon the share or shares held or owned by him.

In witness whereof we have here-

unto set our hands and seals this 25th
day of May, 1899.

ALEXANDER H. MCBRYDE,
W. D. MCBRYDE,
D. P. R. ISENBERG,
B. F. DILLINGHAM,
F. W. MACFARLANE.

In the matter of the incorporation
of the McBryde Sugar Company, Ltd.
D. P. R. Isenberg, president; F. W.
Macfarlane, secretary, and E. E. Pax-
ton, treasurer of the McBryde Sugar
Co., Ltd., a corporation now being incorporated, do severally depose and
say:

That the amount of the capital stock
of said corporation is $3,500,000, divided into 175,000 shares of the par value
of $20 each, $2,500 shares being fully
paid up stock and the balance assess-
able stock, to be paid up in cash.
That three-fourths of the shares
have been subscribed for and that 10
per cent of the capital has been paid
in, partly in cash and partly in property.

That the names of the subscribers
and the number of shares taken by
said subscribers and amounts paid in
by them is as follows:

McBryde Estate, Ltd., and Elizabeth
A. McBryde take 55,000 shares, which shares have been fully paid up and are
non-assessable by virtue of the conveyance here attached.

Benjamin F. Dillingham takes 25,- 000 shares, to be fully paid up by the execution and delivery of a deed to the company of the Elele Plantation property.

The following subscribers have taken the number of shares set opposite
their respective names and have paid
in cash 10 per cent of the par value
of the shares so taken:

B. F. Dillingham 25,000 shares
A. M. McBryde 2,500 shares
W. D. McBryde 2,500 shares
D. P. R. Isenberg 2,500 shares
F. W. Macfarlane 2,500 shares
Geo. H. Fairchild 2,500 shares
Albert S. Wilcox 2,500 shares
J. K. Farley 500 shares
Edward Pollitz & Co. 12,500 shares

The object of incorporation is to take over and conduct an existing agricultural and ranch business to-wit:
The Elele Sugar Plantation, The Wa-
hiawa Ranch, and the sugar plantation of the Koloa Agricultural Co., Ltd.

Five Per Cent.

The applicants for stock in the Mc-
Bryde Sugar Company are receiving
one-twentieth of the shares for which they applied. As the promoter and his associates had said, the apportionment
was not known outside the company
offices until 11 o'clock yesterday morning. Street people made every effort
to get advance information, but all
such work was thwarted.

About two-thirds of the assessable
stock that is to go to the general public was issued yesterday. The settling
will continue in the same place today,
but tomorrow and thereafter the office
for the issuance of stock will be where the desk of Mr. Dillingham sits. The promoter and Mr. Paxton, who is in charge of the share books, wish all
holding temporary receipts to call
without delay and receive stock and
cash balances.

The line yesterday was from the
fourth floor down to the sidewalk in front of the Judd building. The elevator was full and was working all the time. The crowd was a big one from early in the morning till the close of the office in the afternoon. Most of
the subscribers thought the allotment
would be something like what it turned
out. The eagerness for this stock
is a keenness unsurpassed. The premium on the assessable was last evening $5. It will likely go somewhat
blocks are still inaccessible at any amount so far offered. It will
be noticed that there was a transaction
in the stock on the Hawaiian Exchange. It will be listed regularly on the Honolulu Exchange today or tomorrow.

The incorporation papers for the
new company were not approved by the Government till between 9 and 10
yesterday morning. So skillfully had system been applied to handling the
great sum of money received and the
enormous pile of applications, that the
promoter's office was ready for business
as advertised, and handled the rush nicely.

More Acreage.

About 1500 acres of additional land
have been secured by the Olaa Sugar
Company. Negotiations are under way
for the purchase of about 4000 acres of the Shipman lands. This means that the plantation will have over 6000
acres at a lower elevation than was first proposed, and will be outside of the forest.

Congress of Doctors.

The society organized by physicians
here a few years ago is again holding
an annual convention. All members
of the profession are welcomed to the meetings and papers are read and discussed. There was a good attendance
for the opening last evening and there will be meetings tonight and to-morrow night.

HE TOOK POISON

Deliberate Suicide of A. Schmeden
of Honolulu.

HE LEFT WRITTEN EXPLANATION

Undertook to Record What Made
Him Tired of Living—Family Jars.
An Inquest Held.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

May 26, 1899.

"Dear Friends: If you find me dead,
put my wife in prison. She and I made me take my life. Help my child
to pray, if possible. My wife lives with
—, and that is why I took my life."

Such was the farewell note written
by A. Schmeden. Soon after writing
it he gave it to the hackman and then proceeded to commit suicide by the use
of carbolic acid. The deed was deliberate. Twice before in the same afternoon he had made the attempt. The third time was fatal. He had finally succeeded in his efforts.

The man had been having trouble
with his family for some time. Yesterday he beat his wife, and, under her
complaint was arrested for assault and battery. Later he was released on his own recognizance. He immediately
went to a drug store and purchased
some carbolic acid. He then took a drive to Waikiki, returning home
about 5 o'clock. Before his wife's eyes he poured some of the deadly poison into a glass. This was his second attempt of the day. In the morning
he had tried to take some stuff, but
the glass had been knocked out of his hands by his wife. This second time
Rev. S. E. Bishop, who had been called in did the same act as Mrs. Schmeden
had done. After the police had answered the summons of the wife and
had arrived upon the scene, he made
the third and successful effort. Vainly
did the officer struggle with him. The burning acid had already been drunk
and was seething inside him. The hand of death was clutching the throat out
of which the officer was trying to choke the poison. In the struggle the fiery liquid had been spilled over the face of the suicide and the hands of the policeman, searing both. Before
he could be taken into the hack he
gave one last convulsive shudder, his eyes ablaze, and another victim had
passed by the suicide route.

The body was at once taken to the police station and placed in the same
cell that he had already occupied during the day. The features were tightly drawn and livid from the burning
acid that he had spilled in his last
desperate effort.

A. Schmeden was about 35 years old.
He first arrived here about three years
ago. He was formerly one of the customs inspectors, and while in this position he always conducted himself
well. Over a year ago he began to have trouble with his wife, and went away to the States. About three months ago he again returned to Honolulu and began to work for the Electric Co., where he was employed at the time of his death. He was at one time a member of Company F of the regulars, and the remains will be taken in charge by Capt. Ludewig's command. The funeral will be held this afternoon.

Immediately upon hearing of the tragedy Deputy Marshal Chillingworth
summoned the following jury:

C. E. Clement, A. W. Howe, William
E. Savidge, F. L. Dortch, Fred West,
G. J. Boissac.

After viewing the remains the following witnesses were called and testimony given, and the verdict below
returned:

C. V. Keenan—I am a druggist and
am employed by the Hobron Drug company. Was on duty today. I have seen the body of the deceased down
here at the station house this evening.
I saw him at the Hobron store between 4 and 5 o'clock this afternoon. He asked me for fifty cents' worth of carbolic acid and I gave it to him. That bottle (Exhibit) looks like the one I gave him—a four ounce bottle. It was full when I gave it to him and there is about one-third of it left now and the remainder is to the best of my knowledge and belief carbolic acid. It is a deadly poison. About half an ounce or
an ounce is sufficient to kill a person.
The bottle which I gave him contained
four ounces. The man was perfectly sober when he came into the store—
that is, to all appearances. Carbolic acid is sold at the store nearly every

veritable gold mine. As the horse has
no record he is eligible to events in
him to lose. For months he will be able to sweep everything before him
and when he reaches the company of
the top notchers the present holders
of the very best records will be in
horse will show a mile in 2:04. It was thought during Sunday, up to 5 o'clock
in the afternoon, that Col. Saml Parker would become the owner of Fred Button. Col. Parker had an option on
the horse at $1000 and was to say yes
or no at 5 o'clock. The Colonel was
about five minutes late in keeping the
engagement and in the meantime Mr.
Ouderkirk had changed his mind about
selling. Between Sunday evening and
Monday morning Mr. Ouderkirk
turned the matter over in his mind
and decided that he had best dispose
of the property. He was asked by Messrs. Ballentyne and Dortch to name a figure and did so. The deal was closed on the spot. The new owners take over all the trappings.

Fred Button is a six-year-old son of Alexander Button, known the world
over as the sire of fast ones. There is a strong strain of thoroughbred in the side of the dam of Fred. Button giving the horse that courage so necessary for success in the harness. Fred Button has been in the country less
than six months. Mr. Ouderkirk paid
$160 for the horse, intending to use it
only in a driving cart. "Of course,"
says Mr. Ouderkirk, "I knew that he
had a license to do some traveling,
but he was so green that he was not
gaited at all and I never had any serious thought that he might be a racer.
That he did have speed was discovered
to me quite by accident. I was driving
out Beretania street one evening and
the way the horse handled himself
simply disgusted me. He didn't seem
to be able to take three strides alike.
He was just naturally unhandy and
uncertain in his gait. He would trot
and pace and canter and walk and gal-
lop. I think I lost patience a little
and gave him a pretty sharp cut with
the whip. I was just beyond Thomas
Square and I remember seeing "Jack"
McCendless sitting on his linal and I
nodded and smiled to "Jack" as that
horse sailed along at a rate that was
simply hair-raising. He paced squarely at railroad speed and I said to myself that he was a prize-package that
had been wrapped up the wrong way
and from which the label had been lost. I don't think yet that Button has
ever traveled as fast as he did that
evening when I woke him up quite by accident. Very soon after that I
placed him with McManus at the
track. Some people here can scarcely
believe that Fred Button is a green
horse, but I am positive of it and

have known him from colthood and
who know that he never had a trial of
any sort. As Cunningham says, he is
a horse in a thousand and the men
who have him ought to do pretty well
with him before giving him a fast
mark."

Fred Button has been the wonder of
race track. From the first he has been
a little awkward in harness, but all
was threatened with speed of the first
quality. With his training on he has improved in gait till he is as true a
pacer as ever seen here. The horse
has responded to every call from three
minutes down to 2:13 3/4. Gentlemen
capable of judging say that Mr. Ouder-
kirk's prediction of a 2:04 record for
the horse is quite conservative.

Almost Sold Himself.

"Ned" Macfarlane had a warm desire to enliven the afternoon session
of the Honolulu Stock Exchange yesterday. He offered a favorite security
at $24, then at $23. Next, just to show that he was willing to make a
turn and encourage trading, he bid
$221 on the stock he had placed in the
asked list $2 more. As some one remarked at the moment, Mr. Macfarlane had to scale but a trifle to go on record as making a deal with himself.
"Bid" and "asked" are the same on
a couple of stocks handled on "Change."
The explanation of this is that the
blocks offered and the blocks desired
are of different sizes. For instance,
one dealer wanted thirty shares of Ki-
bel and was willing to pay $16.50.
There was a man across the table who
break into a block of 100 shares.

The Chiet's War Chest.

One of the Honolulu boys now in Manila as a soldier lad for Uncle Sam
writes that he was with a party capturing a treasure believed to be the
war chest of Aguinaldo. "We were
unable to get closer to the big rebel
in the future. The box that we happened on was fully identified as part
of the personal baggage of the rascal
who is giving all so much trouble. It
contained nearly 25,000 Mexican dollars, which is quite an amount of
money for this country. I suppose
that the people of the Islands, the
same as some of the folk in the States,
think we get a share of treasure, or
loot. Not a bit of it. Everything must
punished when detected in trying to get away with ever so little. The
army leaders seem to want the corps

Good Advertising Matter.

The first of the advertising matter
to be issued by the Toyo Kisen Kaisha
line of steamers has been received by
the local agents, H. Hackfeld & Co. It
is a well-printed book of over 100
pages, in which are many cuts showing
typical scenes of the various countries
touched by this line. Hawaii comes in
for a flattering write-up, illustrated
with a number of views. One of the
ing the Hongkong Maru. Japan, China and the Philippines are treated in an interesting manner.

New Japanese Chapel.

The new Japanese chapel at Makiki
was dedicated last evening. Appropriate sermons were preached by Rev. O.
H. Gulick and Rev. Okumura. There were about eight y people present at the services. The building was completed only a few days ago. Funds
have been supplied entirely by the Japanese Church. Services will be held
there next Sunday morning, afternoon
and evening.

LINCOLN'S GETTYSBURG SPEECH.

Four score and seven years ago our Fathers brought forth on this Continent a new Nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great Civil War, testing whether that Nation, or any Nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure.

We are met on a great battlefield of that war.

But, in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate—we cannot consecrate—
we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men who struggled here have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or to detract.

The world will little note nor long remember what we say here,
but it can never forget what they did here.

It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unshin-ing work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced.

It is rather, for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased
devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion.

That we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died
in vain.

That this Nation under God, shall have a new birth of Freedom.

And that Government of the people, by the people, for the peo-

THE CO. ARTICLES

Certificate of Incorporation of New Plantation.

APPROVED BY THE CABINET

Sugar and Agricultural Business—
The Principal Original Subscribers—The Officers.

The appearance of the name of Edward Pollitz in the list of original subscribers to the stock of the McBryde Sugar Company marks the advent of outside capital in plantation development. Heretofore all the investments made by non-residents have been in the settled, producing, dividend-paying enterprises. Mr. Pollitz is the pioneer in the matter of a coast man sharing in a flotation. It is more than likely that he will be followed by others. At least his clientele, which is not by any means inconsiderable, will have his judgment for it that a new plantation in the Islands is also an opportunity for the investor.

Articles of association and incorporation of the McBryde Sugar Co., Ltd.
Be it known that Alexander H. Mc-
Bryde and W. D. McBryde, of Wahi-
wa, Island of Kauai, and B. F. Dilling-
ham, D. P. R. Isenberg and F. W. Mac-
farlane, of Honolulu, Island of Oahu,
Hawaiian Islands, do hereby mutually
follows:

1. That they will become associated
and hereby do associate themselves together as a joint stock company and
corporation under the laws of the Hawaiian Islands for the term and upon
the conditions hereinafter set forth.

2. That the name of the corporation hereby agreed to be incorporated
shall be the "McBryde Sugar Co., Ltd."

3. The term of existence of said
corporation shall be fifty years from
day of date hereof.

4. The place of the principal office
of said corporation shall be at Honolulu aforesaid with a branch office on
the Island of Kauai, on which last
named island all meetings of the board
of directors shall be held.

5. The purposes of the corporation
and the object for which the same is
formed are as follows:

To acquire, construct, maintain and
operate water rights, pumping plants,
reservoirs, ditches, pipes, flumes, electric and other works necessary or
proper for the purpose of irrigation or
otherwise on the Island of Kauai.

To do and transact any other act or
business, agricultural, mercantile, mechanical or otherwise which may be
necessary, useful or convenient to the business of the corporation or to any
portion of said business.

The amount of capital stock
of said corporation shall be
$3,500,000, divided into 175,000
shares of the par value of $20 with the privilege of any time,
upon the vote of the stockholders of
said corporation representing a majority of the shares thereof, of extending
the capital stock from time to time by
the issuance of new shares of said par
value, to any amount not to exceed in
any event $10,000,000.

The officers of said corporation shall
be a president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and auditor, and a
board of five directors, who shall have
exclusive charge, control and management of the company's property and
affairs, subject only to the direction of
the stockholders.

The officers of secretary and treasurer may be held by the same person.

Said officers shall hold office for the
term of one year.

The persons to fill such offices for

the first year shall be:

D. P. R. Isenberg, president.

B. F. Dillingham, vice president.

F. W. Macfarlane, secretary.

E. E. Paxton, treasurer.

Henry Holmes, Auditor.

Directors—Geo. H. Fairchild, Albert
H. Wilcox, J. K. Farley, Alex. M. Mc-
Bryde, W. D. McBryde.

6. All property of the corporation
shall be liable for the just debts there-
of, but no stockholder shall be individually liable for the debts of the corporation beyond the amount due upon
the share or shares held or owned by
him.

In witness whereof we have here-

unto set our hands and seals this 25th
day of May, 1899.

ALEXANDER M. MCBRYDE,
W. D. MCBRYDE,
D. P. R. ISENBERG,
B. F. DILLINGHAM,
F. W. MACFARLANE.

of the McBryde Sugar Company, Ltd.
D. P. R. Isenberg, president; F. W.
Macfarlane, secretary, and E. E. Pax-
ton, treasurer of the McBryde Sugar
Co., Ltd., a corporation now being incorporated, do severally depose and
say:

That the amount of the capital stock
of said corporation is $3,500,000, divided into 175,000 shares of the par value
of $20 each, $2,500 shares being fully
paid up stock and the balance assess-
able stock, to be paid up in cash.

That three-fourths of the shares
have been subscribed for and that 10
per cent of the capital has been paid
in, partly in cash and partly in property.

That the names of the subscribers
and the number of shares taken by
said subscribers and amounts paid in
by them is as follows:

McBryde Estate, Ltd., and Elizabeth
A. McBryde take 55,000 shares, which shares have been fully paid up and are
non-assessable by virtue of the conveyance here attached.

Benjamin F. Dillingham takes 25,- 000 shares, to be fully paid up by the
execution and delivery of a deed to the company of the Eleale Plantation property.

The following subscribers have taken the number of shares set opposite
their respective names and have paid
in cash 10 per cent of the par value
of the shares so taken:

B. F. Dillingham 25,000 shares

A. M. McBryde 2,500 shares

W. D. McBryde 2,500 shares

D. P. R. Isenberg 2,500 shares

F. W. Macfarlane 2,500 shares

Geo. H. Fairchild 2,500 shares

Albert S. Wilcox 2,500 shares

J. K. Farley 500 shares

Edward Pollitz & Co. 12,500 shares

The object of incorporation is to
take over and conduct an existing agri-
cultural and ranch business to-wit:
The Eleale Sugar Plantation, The Wa-
hiawa Ranch, and the sugar plantation of the Koloa Agricultural Co., Ltd.

Five Per Cent.

Bryde Sugar Company are receiving
one-twentieth of the shares for which they asked. As the promoter and his associates had said, the apportionment
was not known outside the company
offices until 11 o'clock yesterday morn-
ing. Street people made every effort
to get advance information, but all
such work was thwarted.

About two-thirds of the assessable
stock that is to go to the general public was issued yesterday. The settling
will continue in the same place today,
but tomorrow and thereafter the office
for the issuance of stock will be where
the desk of Mr. Dillingham sits. The
promoter and Mr. Paxton, who is in charge of the share books, wish all
holding temporary receipts to call
without delay and receive stock and
cash balances.

The line yesterday was from the
fourth floor down to the sidewalk in front of the Judd building. The elevator was full and was working all the
early in the morning till the close of
the office in the afternoon. Most of
the subscribers thought the allotment
would be something like what it turned
out. The eagerness for this stock
is a keenness unsurpassed. The premium on the assessable was last even-
blocks are still inaccessible at
any amount so far offered. It will
be noticed that there was a transaction
in the stock on the Hawaiian Exchange. It will be listed regularly on
the Honolulu Exchange today or tomorrow.

The incorporation papers for the
new company were not approved by
the Government till between 9 and 10
yesterday morning. So skillfully had
system been applied to handling the
great sum of money received and the
enormous pile of applications, that the
promoter's office was ready for business
as advertised, and handled the
rush nicely.

More Acreage.

About 1500 acres of additional land
have been secured by the Olaa Sugar
Company. Negotiations are under way
for the purchase of about 4000 acres of
the Shipman lands. This means that
the plantation will have over 6000
acres at a lower elevation than was
the forest.

Congress of Doctors.

The society organized by physicians
here a few years ago is again holding
an annual convention. All members
of the profession are welcomed to the
meetings and papers are read and discussed. There was a good attendance
for the opening last evening and there
row night.

HE TOOK POISON

Deliberate Suicide of A. Schmeden
of Honolulu.

HE LEFT WRITTEN EXPLANATION

Him Tired of Living—Family Jars.
An Inquest Held.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

May 26, 1899.
"Dear Friends: If you find me dead,
put my wife in prison. She and I
made me take my life. Help my child
to pray, if possible. My wife lives with me, and that is why I took my life."

Such was the farewell note written
by A. Schmeden. Soon after writing
it he gave it to the hackman and then
proceeded to commit suicide by the use
of carbolic acid. The deed was deliberate. Twice before in the same afternoon he had made the attempt. The
succeeded in his efforts.

The man had been having trouble
with his family for some time. Yester-
day he beat his wife, and, under her
complaint was arrested for assault and
battery. Later he was released on his own recognizance. He immediately
went to a drug store and purchased
some carbolic acid. He then took a drive to Waikiki, returning home
about 5 o'clock. Before his wife's
eyes he poured some of the deadly poison into a glass. This was his second attempt of the day. In the morning
he had tried to take some stuff, but
the glass had been knocked out of his
hands by his wife. This second time
Rev. S. E. Bishop, who had been called
in did the same act as Mrs. Schmeden
had done. After the police had answered the summons of the wife and
had arrived upon the scene, he made
the third and successful effort. Vainly
did the officer struggle with him. The
burning acid had already been drunk
and was seething inside him. The hand of death was clutching the throat out
of which the officer was trying to
choke the poison. In the struggle the
fiery liquid had been spilled over the face of the policeman and the hands of
the policeman, searing both. Before
he could be taken into the hack he
gave one last convulsive shudder, his
eyes ablaze, and another victim had
passed by the suicide route.

The body was at once taken to the
police station and placed in the same
cell that he had already occupied during the day. The features were tightly drawn and livid from the burning
acid that he had spilled in his last
desperate effort.

A. Schmeden was about 35 years old.
He first arrived here about three years
ago. He was formerly one of the customs inspectors, and while in this position he always conducted himself
well. Over a year ago he began to
have trouble with his wife, and went away to the States. About three months ago he again returned to Honolulu and began to work for the Electric Co., where he was employed at the time of his death. He was at one time a member of Company F of the
regulars, and the remains will be taken in charge by Capt. Ludwig's command. The funeral will be held this afternoon.

tragedy Deputy Marshal Chillingworth
summoned the following jury:

C. E. Clement, A. W. Howe, William
E. Savidge, F. L. Dortch, Fred West,
G. J. Bolsoe.

After viewing the remains the following witnesses were called and testimony given, and the verdict below
returned:

C. V. Keenan—I am a druggist and
am employed by the Hobron Drug
company. Was on duty today. I have seen the body of the deceased down
here at the station house this evening.
I saw him at the Hobron store between 4 and 5 o'clock this afternoon. He asked me for fifty cents' worth of car-
bottle (Exhibit) looks like the one I
gave him—a four ounce bottle. It was
full when I gave it to him and there is
about one-third of it left now and the remainder is so the best of my knowledge and belief carbolic acid. It is a deadly poison. About half an ounce or
an ounce is sufficient to kill a person.
The bottle which I gave him contained
four ounces. The man was perfectly
sober when he came into the store—
that is, to all appearances. Carbolic
acid is sold at the store nearly every

The Joint Commission Proceeds to Business.

HEARINGS ARE FREELY CRANTED

Statements of All Interested Will Be Received—Newspaper View—Mataafa to be a Witness

(From Saturday's Daily.)

APIA, Samoa, May 22.—The Herald, of this date, has the following editorially:

The Commissioners, which have been appointed by the Powers to investigate the cause of the trouble in Samoa, have arrived. They have selected offices at the International Hotel, which are most suitable for them to transact their business, being convenient to the public and yet free from any annoyance from the street. Since their arrival the English, American and German warships have supplied a guard in turn. As far as we can ascertain, the business done has consisted in interviews with several gentlemen who have expressed their views to them as to the political situation, in view of the fact that the Commissioners have expressed their desire to meet any of the residents that are in a position to give any information as to Samoa and Samoan affairs. We have also been informed that the Commissioners have received letters both from Tanu and Mataafa. These the Commissioners have replied to, but as yet no definite day has been fixed for a reception. That the Commissioners will do their best to put things on a better footing we have not the slightest doubt. They have full power. The Consuls, and all other officials, even the ships of war in the harbor are at their orders. They are in a position to deal with the question fully, and as they think necessary. We have heard that the Commission has already had several interviews with a number of gentlemen who are well acquainted with the native and his customs, and that the same are most anxious to meet others who are able to give them information, which might assist them in forming a just opinion. We hear also that the Commission is in unanimity on all points, so that we may look forward to an early settlement of the question. We would advise residents of Apia to be careful in accepting information retailed on the beach as to the doings of the Commission, as it is not always reliable and very often injurious to the good they may be doing. That the question of the welfare alone of Samoa and Samoans is the desire of the Three Treaty Powers, we very much doubt, as it has got beyond that, and the question has become one of prestige of a nation, so that we in Samoa cannot hope that this Commission will be able to give all that is required to make Samoa an island where capital will find security, our opinion being that until such time that one Power has the control, no capital will be invested in the island, and we hold the opinion that no patching up of the present Treaty will be a success, under any circumstance.

Passengers on the Alameda, which arrived last night, reported that the Commission had commenced work and was holding daily sittings. Conferees, they said, had already been held with Chief Justice Chambers, German Consul Rose and King Maitote Tanu. An embassy has also been sent to Mataafa inviting him to appear before the Commission. He had accepted and was to comply with the request on the Monday following the Alameda's sailing. A guard of honor consisting of a boat from each of the warships was to escort him on board the Badger, where the conference was to be held.

The passengers report that everything is quiet and a speedy solution of the difficulties is expected. Prior to the Alameda's sailing the Philadelphia had received sailing orders, presumably for Honolulu, and the Bruina was said to sail for Guam. H. B. M. Royalist had left Apia.

LAWN FETE.

Gleaners Scored Their Usual Annual Success.

The annual Gleaners' Lawn Party of Saturday afternoon was the event of last week. It was an unqualified success socially and financially. The grounds of the W. R. Castle place in Makiki were thronged from 3 to 6. Outside were scores of carriages. The lawn had been carefully prepared for the fete. The booths were attractively arranged, and the general appearance of the place was inviting in the extreme. The weather was pleasant, there being a delightful breeze. There was music by the Government band the entire afternoon. One of the principal features of the festival was the palmistry camp. The readings have been popularized by this paper, and the services of the adept engaged for the occasion were in demand every minute. Her interpretations were said to be quite exact and entirely happy. One customer, however, could only remember that she had been told that she had a pretty hand. There was a big run on tamales at Mrs. Fuller's headquarters, and a good portion of the town is stocked with candy for a week at least. Lemonade was consumed in a prodigious manner and the flower sales were heavy. Ice cream was a favorite. There were good sales of Hawaiian curios and dinner cards. The Gleaners did well in every way and will have a full lawn again next year. Those in the various departments were:

Dinner Cards—Mrs. Belle Jones, Mrs. D. H. Case, Mrs. H. E. Coleman, Hawaiian Souvenirs—Miss Harriet Lewers, Mrs. J. Shaw, Miss Ward, Candy Table—Mrs. W. E. Brown, Mrs. C. H. Atherton, Miss Charlotte Hall.

Flower Table—The Misses Paia, Mrs. P. A. Potter, Miss May Kluegel, Ice Cream Booth—Mrs. C. B. Damon, Mrs. A. W. Pearson, Mrs. H. H. Williams, Mrs. C. H. Kluegel, Mrs. Clara, Miss Parke.

Tamales—Mrs. A. Fuller, Palmistry—Mrs. Spear.

Entertainment—Illustrated ballad—The Misses Hitchcock, Miss Ada Whittey.

Returns Thanks and Pays Police a Tribute.

Experience as Head of the Department—Trying Duties of the Men. Perilous Service Performed.

The subjoined note was received at the office of the Marshal yesterday:

Honolulu, H. I., May 25, 1899. Arthur M. Brown, Esq., Marshal, Hawaiian Is., City.

My Dear Sir:—It is with feelings of the highest appreciation that I acknowledge the receipt of the beautiful and costly gift of the officers of the Police Department.

I thank you and your officers for this token of regard.

During the years that I have had the honor of being at the head of the Department I have had opportunity to become acquainted with the details of the duties and responsibilities of the officers, and retire from the service with great respect for faithful police and prison officers.

While every intelligent citizen has a general knowledge of the work required of such officers, only those who have to do with the work can fully appreciate what is required of them. The trials, exactions and temptations of the service test character more than is generally understood.

While public attention is occasionally called to some special incident, but little is known of the self-denying and often arduous, and sometimes perilous, service which is demanded.

It will ever be a pleasure to remember the relations which have existed between myself and the officers of the Department in Honolulu and on each of the islands, and the work which we together endeavored to perform.

With best wishes for the individual officers and for the service, and thanking you all again, I remain, respectfully yours,

WILLIAM O. SMITH.

PYTHIAN MEMORIAL DAY.

Impressive Services Held at the Castle Hall.

The Pythian Castle hall on Fort street was filled yesterday afternoon for the special memorial services of the order. The affair was in charge of a joint committee of Oahu and Mystic lodges. At the hall there were conducted the beautiful and impressive services of the Knights of Pythias. H. E. Wally, deputy supreme chancellor commander, presided. His assistants were: George Ward, chancellor commander of Oahu Lodge, as vice-chancellor; H. J. Gallagher, of Mystic Lodge, as prelate, and George Dall, P. C. of Oahu Lodge, as master of work. The attendance included friends of the order, visiting brethren and members of the families of Knights.

The oration of the day was by Dr. A. N. Sinclair, prelate of Oahu Lodge, and was a thoughtful and appropriate effort, well delivered. At the conclusion of the exercises in the hall the Knights proceeded to Nuanu Cemetery, where the graves of all Pythians who have gone before were decorated with flowers and vines.

This memorial day observance is now established with the Pythians of Honolulu, and will be an annual affair. A feature of the service in the hall was the music under the direction of Wray Taylor. The quartette singing was fine. It was by Misses Hart and von Holt and Judge Stanley and Charles A. Elston.

WHOOPIING COUGH.

I had a little boy who was nearly dead from an attack of whooping cough. My neighbors recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did not think that any medicine would help him, but after giving him a few doses of that remedy I noticed an improvement, and one bottle cured him entirely. It is the best cough medicine I ever had in the house.—J. L. Moore, South Burgettstown, Pa. For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents for H. I., and all druggists and dealers.

PAIR OF PAKES

Committed a Robbery and Were Found Out.

ONE PLAYED DEAD MAN

Dr. H. V. Murray's Safe Looted—The Burglar Was Captured by a Quite Unusual Plan.

(From Monday's Daily.)

One of the cleverest pieces of detective work done in this city for a long time was accomplished yesterday by Deputy Marshal Chillingworth. In the morning Dr. H. V. Murray visited the station and reported that during the night his room had been entered and between $200 and $300 taken from the safe. He had no idea who had done this and notified the authorities merely as a matter of form.

With no further knowledge than that the theft had been committed Chillingworth began his hunt for the thief. He first made inquiries as to the whereabouts of Ah Hin, the Chinese boy who works for Dr. Murray. After a tedious search he found him. The next task was to extract any information that the "wily Chinese" might have. After much questioning Ah Hin admitted that he had been spending the morning with Ah Oi, who had been gambling quite heavily. As Ah Oi is an "odd job" Celestial Chillingworth wondered where the money came from. Leaving Ah Hin at the station he started after the man of sudden wealth. He found the house but the bird had flown. In order to disarm suspicion he told the women of Ah Oi's house that Ah Hin was dying at the station and wanted to see Ah Oi. The ruse was successful. In the meantime the officer had Ah Hin stretched out on the table with a shroud over his body, and flour over his face, the latter being the pallor of death. When Ah Oi saw the supposed dead body of his "pal" his wonder was great, and his attempt at grief greater. Chillingworth left with Ah Oi and later returned to the "dead" man.

Ah Hin that Ah Oi had confessed everything and as the story went Ah Hin was deeply indebted to the bluff worked. Ah Hin immediately told the tale of the robbery. Later Ah Oi verified his pale story, with the exception that he said that Ah Hin entered the room and took the money. There are facts though that disprove this and make Ah Oi the culprit.

According to the story Ah Hin had informed Ah Oi that Dr. Murray was in the habit of keeping a large sum of money in the safe. The plans for the burglary were arranged. Ah Oi was to go inside, while Ah Hin was to keep watch from without. When the doctor was awakened by the turning of the key in the safe he reached out for his revolver, which he always placed on the stand near by. The pistol had been removed. The burglar was startled by the movement and immediately fled, leaving the greater portion of the safe's contents intact.

Some of the money was found in Ah Oi's possession. He has been arrested before on minor charges of like nature, and the last time served nine months for a petty theft.

Good Show Given

There was the usual bumper house at the Orpheum Saturday night, and the show was well received. The programme was A1, with the exception of a couple of numbers. These were the cabinet act and the stump speech turn. The $10,000 Beauty made a distinct hit, and is good for a long run. Post and Miss Dale are the stars in this. Miss Dale's Doll Dance was something new and clever. Giorine in fire dancing created great enthusiasm. Cunningham was a strong card in acrobatic work. Miss Graham's singing is liked as well as ever.

There will be a good programme again tonight.

NOT A STOCK TOWN.

(Hilo Tribune.)

Auctioneer Stevens is trying to inaugurate a stock exchange in Hilo, but finds the season a little backward, or the soil too much of the nature of pahoehoe. After two or three auction sales held at noon on various days this week, the bidding has been rather feeble, and that confidence which has so boomed stocks in Honolulu seems to have been lacking. Olua has sold at about 30 cents above par instead of at $2, as so it is reported in Honolulu. Nahiku only went up to 60 cents above par, while Hawaiian investments went begging. There has besides been doubt in many minds as to the genuineness of even these sales, but Mr. Stevens denies most emphatically these insinuations, nor does there seem to be any good reason to support them. It is not at all likely that stock transactions will cut a very important figure in Hilo commercial life. The general bend of the business in Honolulu not setting a precedent which is eagerly followed.

Nervous Debility

is often one of the most distressing after effects of the Grip. It may also be caused by overwork, worry, mental strain or excesses of almost any nature. Whatever the cause, a debilitated nervous system means that the nerves lack nutrition. Feed the nerves and life will renew its joys for you.

The best nerve food, and the most valuable tonic (because it both builds up the blood and strengthens the nerves) is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Hundreds of worn-out, depressed men and women have been made strong-nerved, ambitious, energetic and healthful by this remedy.

Among the well-known men of the newspaper profession is F. J. Lawrence, of 435 Fourth Avenue, Detroit, Mich., who for the past seven years has been at his desk every day. He says: "At one time I was in such a condition that my physician said I would have nervous prostration; that I would have to stop newspaper work or I would go to pieces if I persisted in doing it, as I was destroying what nerve force I had left. I lost flesh and had a complication of ailments which baffled skillful physicians. An associate recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and I gave them a trial. I can't say that I received any benefit from the first box, but derived very good results from the second. They gave me strength and helped my shattered nerves so that I could get a full night's rest."

"A great deal of pain in the small of the back I attributed to a derangement of the kidneys. For this complaint Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People worked wonders. Soon after I began taking them regularly, the pain ceased, and I felt like a new man. I am greatly encouraged from the results of using a few boxes and am confident that the pills will work a complete restoration of my former condition."—From Evening News, Detroit, Mich.

NEWS FROM APIA

The Joint Commission Proceeds to Business.

HEARINGS ARE FREELY GRANTED

Statements of All Interested Will Be Received—Newspaper View—Mataafa to be a Witness

(From Saturday's Daily.)

APIA, Samoa, May 22.—The Herald, of this date, has the following editorially:

The Commissioners, which have been appointed by the Powers to investigate the cause of the trouble in Samoa, have arrived. They have selected offices at the International Hotel, which are most suitable for them to transact their business, being convenient to the public and yet free from any annoyance from the street. Since their arrival the English, American and German warships have supplied a guard in turn. As far as we can ascertain, the business done has consisted in interviews with several gentlemen who have expressed their views to them as to the political situation, in view of the fact that the Commissioners have expressed their desire to meet any of the residents that are in a position to give any information as to Samoa and Samoan affairs. We have also been informed that the Commissioners have received letters both from Tanu and Mataafa. These the Commissioners have replied to, but as yet no definite day has been fixed for a reception. That the Commissioners will do their best to put things on a better footing we have not the slightest doubt. They have full power. The Consul, and all other officials, even the ships of war in the harbor are at their orders. They are in a position to deal with the question fully, and as they think necessary. We have heard that the Commission has already had several interviews with a number of gentlemen who are well acquainted with the native and his customs, and that the same are most anxious to meet others who are able to give them information, which might assist them in forming a just opinion. We hear also that the Commission is in unanimity on all points, so that we may look forward to an early settlement of the question. We would advise residents of Apia to be careful in accepting information related on the beach as to the doings of the Commission, as it is not always reliable and very often injurious to the good they may be doing. That the question of the welfare alone of Samoa and Samoans is the desire of the Three Treaty Powers very much doubt, as it has got beyond that, and the question has become one of prestige of a nation, so that we in Samoa cannot hope that this Commission will be able to give all that is required to make Samoa an island where capital will find security, our opinion being that until such time that one Power has the control, no capital will be invested in the island, and we hold the opinion that no patching up of the present Treaty will be a success, under any circumstance.

Passengers on the Alameda, which arrived last night, reported that the Commission had commenced work and was holding daily sittings. Conferences, they said, had already been held with Chief Justice Chambers, German Consul Rose and King Maileola Tanu. An embassy has also been sent to Mataafa inviting him to appear before the Commission. He had accepted and was to comply with the request on the Monday following the Alameda's sailing. A guard of honor consisting of a boat from each of the warships was to escort him on board the Badger, where the conference was to be held. The passengers report that everything is quiet and a speedy solution of the difficulties is expected. Prior to the Alameda's sailing the Philadelphia had received sailing orders, presumably for Honolulu, and the Brutus was to sail for Guam. H. B. M. Royall had left Apia.

LAWN FETE.

Gleaners Scored Their Usual Annual Success.

The annual Gleaners' Lawn Party of Saturday afternoon was the event of last week. It was an unqualified success socially and financially. The grounds of the W. R. Castle place in Makiki were thronged from 3 to 6. Outside were scores of carriage. The lawn had been carefully prepared for the fete. The booths were attractively arranged, and the general appearance of the place was inviting in the extreme. The weather was pleasant, there being a delightful breeze. There was music by the Government band the entire afternoon. One of the principal features of the festival was the palmistry camp. The readings have been popularized by this paper, and the services of the adept engaged for the occasion were in demand every minute. Her interpretations were said to be quite exact and entirely happy. One customer, however, could only remember that she had been told that she had a pretty hand. There was a big run on tamales at Mrs. Fuller's headquarters, and a good portion of the town is stocked with candy for a week at least. Lemonade was consumed in a prodigious manner and the flower sales were heavy. Ice cream was a favorite. There were good sales of Hawaiian curios and dinner cards. The Gleaners did well in every way and will have a full lawn again next year. Those in the various departments were:

Dinner Cards—Mrs. Belle Jones, Mrs. D. H. Case, Mrs. H. E. Coleman, Hawaiian Souvenirs—Miss Harriet Lewers, Mrs. J. Shaw, Miss Ward, Candy Table—Mrs. W. E. Brown, Mrs. C. H. Atherion, Miss Charlotte Hall.

Flower Table—The Misses Fay, Mrs. P. A. Potter, Miss May Kluegel, Ice Cream Booth—Mrs. C. B. Damon, Mrs. A. W. Pearson, Mrs. H. H. Williams, Mrs. C. H. Kluegel, Mrs. Clark, Miss Parke.

Tamales—Mrs. A. Fuller, Palmistry—Mrs. Spear.

Experience as Head of the Department—Trying Duties of the Men. Perilous Service Performed.

The subjoined note was received at the office of the Marshal yesterday:

Honolulu, H. I., May 25, 1899. Arthur M. Brown, Esq., Marshal, Hawaiian Is., City.

My Dear Sir:—It is with feelings of the highest appreciation that I acknowledge the receipt of the beautiful and costly gift of the officers of the Police Department.

I thank you and your officers for this token of regard. During the years that I have had the honor of being at the head of the Department I have had opportunity to become acquainted with the details of the duties and responsibilities of the officers, and retire from the service with great respect for faithful police and prison officers.

While every intelligent citizen has a general knowledge of the work required of such officers, only those who have to do with the work can fully appreciate what is required of them. The trials, exactions and temptations of the service test character more than is generally understood.

While public attention is occasionally called to some special incident, but little is known of the self-denying and often arduous, and sometimes perilous, service which is demanded. It will ever be a pleasure to remember the relations which have existed between myself and the officers of the Department in Honolulu and on each of the islands, and the work which we together endeavored to perform.

With best wishes for the individual officers and for the service, and thanking you all again, I remain, respectfully yours, WILLIAM O. SMITH.

PYTHIAN MEMORIAL DAY.

Impressive Services Held at the Castle Hall.

The Pythian Castle hall on Fort street was filled yesterday afternoon for the special memorial services of the order. The affair was in charge of a joint committee of Oahu and Myrtle lodges. At the hall there were conducted the beautiful and impressive services of the Knights of Pythias. H. E. Wally, deputy supreme chancellor commander, presided. His assistants were: George Ward, chancellor commander of Oahu Lodge, as vice-chancellor; H. J. Gallagher, of Myrtle Lodge, as prelate; and George Ball, P. C. of Oahu Lodge, as master of work. The attendance included friends of the order, visiting brethren and members of the families of Knights.

The oration of the day was by Dr. A. N. Sinclair, prelate of Oahu Lodge, and was a thoughtful and appropriate effort, well delivered. At the conclusion of the exercises in the hall the Knights proceeded to Nuuanu Cemetery, where the graves of all Pythians who have gone before were decorated with flowers and vines.

This memorial day observance is now established with the Pythians of Honolulu, and will be an annual affair. A feature of the service in the hall was the music under the direction of Wray Taylor. The quartette singing was fine. It was by Misses Hart and von Holt and Judge Stanley and Charles A. Elston.

WHOOPIING COUGH.

I had a little boy who was nearly dead from an attack of whooping cough. My neighbors recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did not think that any medicine would help him, but after giving him a few doses of that remedy I noticed an improvement, and one bottle cured him entirely. It is the best cough medicine I ever had in the house.—J. L. Moore, South Hargetstown, Pa. For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents for H. I., and all druggists and dealers.

PAIR OF PAKES

Committed a Robbery and Were Found Out.

Or H. V. Murray's Safe Looted—The Burglar Was Captured by a Quite Unusual Plan.

(From Monday's Daily.)

One of the cleverest pieces of detective work done in this city for a long time was accomplished yesterday by Deputy Marshal Chillingworth. In the morning Dr. H. V. Murray visited the station and reported that during the night his room had been entered and between $200 and $300 taken from the safe. He had no idea who had done this and notified the authorities merely as a matter of fact.

With no further knowledge than that the theft had been committed Chillingworth began his hunt for the thief. He first made inquiries as to the whereabouts of Ah Hin, the Chinese boy who works for Dr. Murray. After a tedious search he found him. The next task was to extract any information that the "wily Chinese" might have. After much questioning Ah Hin admitted that he had been spending the morning with Ah Oi, who had been gambling quite heavily. As Ah Oi is an "odd job" Celestial Chillingworth wondered where the money came from. Leaving Ah Hin at the station he started after the man of sudden wealth. He found the house, but the bird had flown. In order to disarm suspicion he told the women of Ah Oi's house that Ah Hin was dying at the station and wanted to see Ah Oi. The ruse was successful.

In the meantime the officer had Ah Hin stretched out on the table with a shroud over his body, and four over his face, the latter being placed for death. When Ah Oi saw the supposed dead body of his "pal" his wonder was great, and his attempt at grief greater. Chillingworth left with Ah Oi, and later returned to the "dead" man, leaving Ah Oi with an officer. He told Ah Hin that Ah Oi had confessed everything and as the story went Ah Hin was deeply implicated. The bluff worked. Ah Hin immediately told the tale of the robbery. Later Ah Oi verified his pal's story, with the exception that he said that Ah Hin entered the room and took the money. There are facts though that disprove this and make Ah Oi the culprit.

According to the story Ah Hin had informed Ah Oi that Dr. Murray was in the habit of keeping a large sum of money in the safe. The plan for the burglary was arranged. Ah Oi was to go inside, while Ah Hin was to keep watch from without. When the doctor was awakened by the turning of the key in the safe he reached out for his revolver, which he always placed on the stand near by. The pistol had been removed. The burglar was startled by the movement and immediately fled, leaving the greater portion of the safe's contents intact.

Some of the money was found in Ah Oi's possession. He has been arrested before on minor charges of like nature, and the last time served nine months for a petty theft.

A FINE STARTER

First League Ball Game a Good Exhibition.

Won by Kamehameha Over Stars—An Enthusiastic Crowd—Work of the 18 Men.

If the base ball players will continue to put up such ball as was played Saturday in the opening game there is no doubt of the season's success. From the time when the first ball was pitched to the last put-out there was continual excitement and the result was always in doubt. The "Kams" finally won. But it was no walk-over and to this the score of 8 to 6 will testify. No one would have thought that it was the first game. Errors were comparatively few and were in several instances the result of trying for hard chances. Both teams batted well, most of the hits being clean and free from the scratch order. The pitchers twirled in fairly good form, the Kams having slightly the best of it in this department. This was evened up, however, by the catching of Gorman, who stopped everything within reach and played like a demon clear through. In individual work Moore was the star, he having five put-outs and a number of assists to his credit. The coaching of McNichol and Gorman for the Stars and Wise for the Kamehamehas, was full of that spirit so dear to the heart of the "fan." And what is more, the crowd, which was large, actually enjoyed. In the eighth inning, when the Kams filled the bases and Burgess lined out a three-bagger the din was deafening. The umpiring of balls and strikes by Keohakalo gave complete satisfaction on account of the strict fairness. The whole game was remarkably free from "kicking," the boys seeming to realize that they must be on their good behavior on their first appearance. Cuba, the Star's mascot, felt the result deeply. In the last of the seventh, when his team was one ahead he let out one triumphant bark, but when the Kams began to pile up their bunch of five runs he lay down and would not be comforted. "Joek" Carter, the manager of the Stars, declined to be interviewed after the game. All he would say was "next time."

The Kams were first up. They went out in one, two, three order and the Stars followed suit. In the second, Burgess and Kekuewa scored for the Kams, while the Stars were again presented with a goose-egg. Mahuka scored in the third, and Moore and Thompson did the same for the Stars. Three up and three out was the Kams' portion in the fourth, while Hart pulled a run for the Stars, tying the score. In the fifth and sixth two big zeros were hung out for each team. In the seventh the Kams kept up the good work, while the Stars broke the spell by Moore scoring. In the eighth the Kams played ball and scored five runs, the Stars being shut out. The Kams failed to score in the ninth, and after a hard effort the Stars got in two, Hart and Jackson. Score 8-6, in favor of Kamehameha.

The summary is as follows:

Earned runs—Stars, 2; Kams, 3; two-base hits, Thompson, Kaanol; three-base hits, Thompson, Burgess, Kekuewa; home runs, none; passed balls, Kekuewa; wild pitches, Jackson; double plays, none; time of game, 2 hours. Umpires, Winter and Keohakalo. Scorer, Clement.

Bad Bills Again.

Two more photographed Hawaiian treasury notes for 20 in silver are in town. This is the first appearance of such spurious currency since the big sensation created some months ago. One of the bills now under scrutiny was accepted by a wholesale house and thrown out by a bank. The other was sent from Manila by a former resident of Honolulu—Thomas Evans. Mr. Evans says that a plant for photographing bills of all nations was recently captured by the provost guard at Manila and confiscated. The bill that was thrown out by the bank here may have come from Manila, or it may be a home product. The photographing in each case is good, but the paper is of indifferent quality.

Mrs. Harold M. Sewall

(San Francisco Call.)

Mrs. Sewall is the wife of Hon. Harold M. Sewall, United States Special Agent to the Hawaiian Islands. As Miss Millie Ashe Mrs. Sewall was one of the most popular girls in San Francisco society. That her popularity has not waned since her marriage has been shown by the many efforts that her friends have made to make her visit to her old home a happy one. During the few months that she has been here from Honolulu she has been more extensively entertained than any other woman in San Francisco.

He is Not Sick.

Charles Schermerhorn, who went from here to Manila with the very first expedition of American troops, and who was a few months ago discharged on account of physical disability, recently reached San Francisco as a passenger by the transport Grant. He has gone into the Northwest to recuperate. While the young man has been quite ill, the reports that there were apprehensions for his life were unfounded. He did not have consumption, but was dragged down by the slow camp fever. Mrs. Schermerhorn, mother of the soldier and football player, is now in Honolulu and expects her son to join her here in a few weeks.

THE CZAR'S SHIP

Russian Cruiser Razboynik in Naval Row.

An Arrival From Valparaiso—Out Forty-one Days—Salutes Exchanged—Her Stay in Port.

The Russian wooden cruiser Razboynik, Commander Kussowich, arrived in port, forty-one days from Valparaiso, last Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock. On entering the channel she saluted the flag and an hour later the Kakaako battery responded with twenty-one guns, manned by a squad from Battery I, Sixth United States Artillery.

A boat was sent ashore to the Russian Consulate, at Hackfeld & Co.'s, and a quantity of mail, which had been accumulating for several months, was taken off. The Razboynik was anchored in naval row, Waikiki of the United States steamer Iroquois. She will remain in port a fortnight, coaling and overhauling for the continuance of her trip, sailing for Yokohama and the Asiatic station of the Russian squadron about June 12th.

The Razboynik has been cruising along the west coast of North and South America. She is a small bark rigged vessel and carries seventeen guns and a crew of 168 men. The following are the officers:

Captain—J. Kussowich.
Commander—J. Ragosa.
Lieutenants—G. Pekarski, C. Planigan, P. Nosikoff, W. Pilkin.
Ensign—W. Poolinoff.
Navigating Officer—M. Saloff.
Chief Engineer—A. Petroff.
Second Engineer—S. Krewkoff.
Surgeon—G. Karoujas.

Capt. Kussowich was in these waters twenty years ago on the Russian cruiser Djiglit.

Russian Consul J. F. Hackfeld is in attendance on the wants of the Razboynik yesterday and will probably receive the formal calls today.

HILO'S FONDEST HOPE.

(Tribune.)

A colored drawing of a very handsome residence can be seen at the Hilo drug store. The plan is by H. L. Kerr, architect, of Honolulu, and is for the new Reed's Island home which Mr. J. R. Wilson will soon have built. It promises to be the handsomest residence in town at present, and the interior plans show it to be as commodious and convenient as it is handsome. A large ballroom on the second floor is an innovation in Hilo architecture, but over the evident advantage of which will be apparent to every one and will doubtless be followed by others.

Judge G. K. Wilder will soon build on his Puna lot a residence from plans by the same architect. Several other dwellings are also projected, and Hilo will in the not distant future take rank with Honolulu, if it does not surpass it, as a city of beautiful homes.

S. S. Adams.

The training ship Adams arrived in Hilo Bay last Friday forenoon, May 26th, twenty-two days from Magdalena Bay. She will remain there until June 8th, going thence to Honolulu. She has on board 150 apprentices and a crew of 100 men. Her officers are as follows: Commander, G. M. Book, U. S. N.; Lieut. Cowde, Theodor Porter, executive officer; Lieut. L. M. Wood, navigator; Lieut. M. L. Dombagh; ensigns, S. P. Fullinwider, S. V. Graham, C. England, I. A. Kearney; paymaster, J. E. Carr; chaplain, J. P. Frazer; assistant surgeon, R. I. Orvis. The Adams may be expected in this port on Saturday, June 10th.

A BIG RUSH IS ON

General Desire to Secure a New Sugar Stock.

AN ELEVATOR KEPT BUSY

Applicants in Line on the Fourth Floor—Checks and Cash—Investors and Speculators in Field.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

There were gentlemen "in the know" who were willing to wager last evening that the stock of the McBryde Sugar Company, Promoter Dillingham's latest, would be subscribed twenty times over. There was meant the block of assessable at which the general public would have a chance. Just how much this will total is not known. The street estimate was in the neighborhood of half a million. It may be much more. Of course all the paid up stock was reserved for use by the company and the directors and officers were made allotments of assessable. It is believed this has been done in all the flotations here. There has been some street criticism of Mr. Dillingham, but he does not seem to mind it. He says he has always kept faith with the public and will continue to do so at any cost. Talk was heard in various quarters of concessions to brokers, but these alleged transactions vanished when followed. It seems to be true that a considerable quantity of the assessable stock has reached people who will hold it for advance, but there is nothing irregular in these dealings. It is known that Mr. Dillingham has been approached many times with proposals that would return him very handsomely, but that in every case he has declined his determination of adhering to his plans as outlined in the beginning. Such assessable stock as has gotten out in advance has been turned over to fulfill some of the agreements necessary in a great deal involving so much money and so many people and interests.

The rush for McBryde was simply something unprecedented. It was more than the same affairs for either Kihel or Olan. The office is in the fourth floor of the Judd building and is in charge of Messrs. Paxton and White. These gentlemen were behind a temporary counter and stretching away from them was a line of people to the elevator. The lift did the business of its career yesterday and will have a big run today. Mr. Paxton received the signatures, the money and checks and Mr. White made out the receipts. About 250 persons subscribed during the day. The hours were 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. and will be the same today. Messrs. Paxton and White were quick at their work, but not a minute were they without business at hand. Payments were in check, gold and silver. There was a great pile of cash.

The proportion of solid people after the stock was large. The speculative element was well represented. Some individuals one would naturally place in the investor class were apparently up for a flyer, while others considered dealers acted as though they were going into the company to stay. The applicants figured and figured on the probable apportionment, but were unable to reach any solution that was at all satisfying. A lot of the people came with all the money they could raise and with no thought of paying the second assessment. It cost $2 a share to get in yesterday. The hope of the one who gambles is to get back about $7, or perhaps a few dollars more, for the $2. The assessable was quoted on the street yesterday all the way from $1 to $5 premium. There was not much of it for sale. There will not be much of it on the market till after the apportionment is made and a quotation established. The stock will be listed by the brokers without delay. Some of yesterday's applicants were rather playing with fire. They had strained themselves to get cash for representation during the few days between the time of application and the time when negotiation, with the temperature rising every minute, will be the order. "Resources are mighty mysterious," was the remark of one of the conservatives as he saw a clerk whose employer could not arrange to take stock put down for a goodly "bunch." The indications are that there will be frantic times on the street when the ball of dealing in McBryde gets rolling.

Engagement Announced.

The marriage engagement is announced of Dr. A. N. Sinclair and Miss Flora M. Perry, both of this city. The young people are well known and highly esteemed. They are popular and congratulations will be numerous and sincere. The bride-elect is the daughter of the late Portuguese Consul to Hawaii, and has been prominent in social circles. Dr. A. N. Sinclair is an Oahu College "boy," a graduate of Edinburgh medical institutions, and a successful practitioner of the city.

A CURE FOR CHRONIC DIARRHOEA.

I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhoea ever since the war and have used all kinds of medicines for it. At last I found one remedy that has been a success as a cure, and that is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. P. E. Graham, Oahu Mills, La. For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents for H. I., and all druggists and dealers.

CAPTAIN LEARY AND THE YOSEMITE.

The cruiser Yosemite, formerly U. S. S. Albatross, has returned to Oahu, our possession in the Ladrone Islands, its new government vessel. Captain Richard P. Leary. The Yosemite, in addition to being the government general agent, will make his home until suitable quarters can be constructed on land.

SHARE PARTITION HAS BEEN MADE.

Delivery of McBryde Co. Certificates at 11 a. m. (From Monday's Daily.)

Mr. Dillingham will be ready tomorrow morning to start in on the flotation of another railway or plantation. His work as promoter of Waiawa, or the McBryde Sugar Company, will be completed by this evening. The apportionment of stock has been made and the certificates will be issued today, beginning at 11 a. m. This is the record here for a flotation. Applications for the shares were received on Friday and Saturday of last week. Saturday night and yesterday the allotments were decided upon. What these may be can only be guessed at until 11 o'clock today. Last evening Mr. Dillingham, the promoter, and Mr. Kinney, of the company, decided positively to say what the "last call" would be. Both said that under no circumstances would figures be made public before the special office hour of today. It is known that the total of applications for the stock to go to the "general public" is much more than the entire capitalization of the company. Those who signed their names and left checks may get a twentieth, a tenth, a fifth, third or half. They will learn at 11 this morning. The only breathing spell that Messrs. Paxton and White had during Friday and Saturday was between 3 and 4 Saturday afternoon. But they made up for the rest of the lull by the rush between 4 and 5. Altogether more than 600 persons called for shares. The amount of money received is something enormous. Certified checks in five figures were quite common. There were scores of deposits in four figures. The line was a steady one between the opening hour and 3 o'clock in the afternoon. There will be a long line at 11 this morning. Mr. Dillingham has been the man of the hour. He is entitled to a vacation and proposes soon to have one.

A FINE STARTER

Won by Kamehameha Over Stars—An Enthusiastic Crowd—Work of the 18 Men.

If the base ball players will continue to put up such ball as was played Saturday in the opening game there is no doubt of the season's success. From the time when the first ball was pitched to the last put-out there was continual excitement and the result was always in doubt. The "Kams" finally won. But it was no walk-over and to this the score of 8 to 6 will testify. No one would have thought that it was the first game. Errors were comparatively few and were in several instances the result of trying for hard chances. Both teams batted well, most of the hits being clean and free from the scratch order. The pitchers twirled in fairly good form, the Kams having slightly the best of it in this department. This was evened up, however, by the catching of Gorman, who stopped everything within reach and played like a demon clear through. In individual work Moore was the star, he having five put-outs and a number of assists to his credit. The coaching of McNichol and Gorman for the Stars and Wise for the Kamehamehas, was full of that spirit so dear to the heart of the "fan." And what is more, the crowd, which was large, actually enjoyed it. In the eighth inning, when, with the score 4 to 3 against them, the Kams filled the bases and Burgess lined out a three-bagger the din was deafening. The umpiring of balls and strikes by "Jack" Winter and of bases by Keohakalohe gave complete satisfaction on account of the strict fairness. The whole game was remarkably free from "kicking," the boys seeming to realize that they must be on their good behavior on their first appearance. Cuba, the Star's mascot, felt the result deeply. In the last of the seventh, when his team was one ahead he let out one triumphant bark, but when the Kams began to pile up their bunch of five runs he lay down and would not be comforted. "Jock" Carter, the manager of the Stars, declined to be interviewed after the game. All he would say was "next time." The Kams were first up. They went out in one-two, three order and the Stars followed suit. In the second, Burgess and Kekuewa scored for the Kams, while the Stars were again presented with a goose-egg. Mahuka scored in the third, and Moore and Thompson did the same for the Stars. Three up and three out was the Kams' portion in the fourth, while Hart pulled a run for the Stars, tying the score. In the fifth and sixth two big zeros were hung out for each team. In the seventh the Kams kept up the good work, while the Stars broke the spell by Moore scoring. In the eighth the Kams played ball and scored five runs, the Stars being shut out. The Kams failed to score in the ninth, and after a hard effort the Stars got in two, Hart and Jackson. Score 8-6, in favor of Kamehameha.

The summary is as follows:

| | ABR | 1B | PO | A | E |
|-------------|-----|----|----|----|---|
| Mahuka, 2b | 5 | 2 | 2 | 4 | 2 |
| Renter, rf | 4 | 1 | 1 | 1 | 7 |

| Hart | 4 | 2 | 1 | 0 | 0 |
| Jackson | 4 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 |
| T. Jackson | 4 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 7 |

Earned runs—Stars, 2; Kams, 3; two-base hits, Thompson, Kanoli; three-base hits, Thompson, Burgess, Kekuewa; home runs, none; passed balls, Kekuewa; wild pitches, Jackson; double plays, none; time of game, 2 hours. Umpires, Winter and Keohakalohe. Scorer, Clement.

THE WAIKIKI SALOON.

The granting of license to keep a saloon on the Waikiki road, directly upon the causeway at the terminus of the tramcar line, was a most unfortunate piece of carelessness on the part of the Government. The building itself does no credit to the place. It belongs to that style of architecture called the "shanty." Across the face of it is an enormous sign presenting the words, "Enterprise beer." This sign, it is said, is easily read through glasses of those standing on the decks of outgoing and incoming steamers. The causeway itself furnishes the only grand view of the ocean on the Waikiki road. This view, combined with that of Makee Island, with its stately ironwood trees, presents the most picturesque effect in the city or its suburbs, excluding, of course, the mountain views. The land side of the causeway should be acquired by the Government, so that seats could be permanently placed so as to front the ocean. Right in this scene of wonderful tropical beauty of ocean and land this saloon shanty has been placed, which is a quick reminder of the saloons on the outskirts of civilization.

Let there be a saloon in that neighborhood, if it is needed, but let it be placed at some distance from the road, on one of the side streets, where it will not be conspicuous. The traveler, who, after a long journey by sea, at last sighted land and a gallows standing on it, exclaimed: "Thank God! I am again in civilization," and he would surely have made the same exclamation if he had seen a saloon in place of it. But why place these evidences of man's crime and weakness in conspicuous places? Why make a loafing place of one of the prettiest spots in the city?

In justice to the Government it may perhaps be said that it granted the license without having its attention called to the location of the saloon. The license will expire before long, and it should not be renewed unless another place is taken.

MILES AND EMBALMED BEEF.

The press of the Mainland that habitually denounces the President, refuses to accept the findings of the military court in the matter of embalmed beef. It pronounces it a whitewashing affair, and charges the President with organizing the court in such a way as to secure an acquittal. But the finding of the court will stand approved by the common sense of the country.

The court does not find that embalmed beef was used as charged by Gen. Miles, and it censures him for not making an official report on the matter the moment that he believed that it was used. Any one familiar with the industry of preparing meats, and the reputations of the great concerns who furnish it, does not believe that they were guilty of the charge of using injurious chemicals in the process. Their trade depends upon popular opinion, which is extremely sensitive in the matter of canned goods. They simply furnished to the army an article which was a staple in trade.

The finding of the court virtually is, that Gen. Miles lost his head. Why he lost it, is not stated. He appears to have suddenly become prejudiced against the commissary department, and did, what is always a dangerous thing to do, dispose of the matter by an ill-considered opinion of his own. The weakest point in his case is that he never told the Government about it, but "went into the newspapers" and permitted them to flash the sensational stuff over the country, and enrage the people at the treatment of the volunteers.

Perhaps Gen. Miles will now follow the example of Gen. McClellan, who, when removed by Lincoln from the office of commander of the Army of the Potomac, became a candidate for the Presidency in order to vindicate himself. Will the Democratic party nominate him? It certainly would do so if Miles could command a large vote. But he has not taken any glory in the Spanish war, and he cannot be pictured astride of a charger riding down a legion of frightened Spaniards. And he has himself become embalmied in history as a commander who lost his head on the battlefield.

The ways of democracy are queer. The people are the masters. But the subordinate machinery of government forbids the commanding general to talk too freely to his masters, lest he lead them astray. "Don't let the people know too much" is the wisdom of the inferior political leaders.

President McKinley is vindicated, but the report of the court is virtually that when the nation "went a gunning" for Spaniards in the tropics it should have thought of the homely things as much as it did of the glory of storming entrenchments. It did not, and was in the predicament of the three small boys who left home secretly on a trip to the North Pole, of which they had read, and provided themselves only with a basket of buns and some molasses candy. But the homely things came quickly to the front when Uncle Sam went into Cuba, and the loss of a good many lives made him swift to realize the needs of the hour.

LABORERS IN THE BRITISH COLONIES.

Lord Stanmore, the Governor of Mauritius, has established harmony between the planters and the Indian laborers.

The laborers are satisfied with the wages and are saving money. Some of the coolies are proprietors or co-proprietors in the sugar estates.

The British colonial governors are not always in harmony with the British residents and planters of the colonies who represent the mercantile interests, and are always clamorous for a colonial rule which will put money in their pockets, without reference to the well-being of the native inhabitants. Opposed to them is a powerful, though not dominant, party at home, which would be called in these islands "the missionary party." It has modified the harshness of the mercantile spirit in the colonies, and has, after many years of persistent labor, made the colonial rule an enlightened and beneficial rule. It is this party which strenuously opposes the British opium trade with China, and would have forced the Government to abolish it, if the loss of it did not seriously cripple the revenues of the East Indian Government. It has, however, forced the colonial rulers to govern justly, even at the expense of the British subjects in the colonies.

The ablest and most progressive of these governors have looked to England for approval, and not to the British subjects residing abroad. They have enforced the laws protecting immigrants, and some of them have achieved great success in improving their condition. They have recognized the British citizenship of the meaneast coolie, and given them a certain protection. Time and again the British colonial planters have sent protests to the home Government against alleged arbitrary acts of these governors, but the "missionary" influence at home has usually defeated their schemes and forced them to live up to some measure of justice.

A REMARKABLE MAN.

Mr. Henry B. Hyde, who recently died in New York city, was one of the most successful business men of his generation. At the time of his death he was the vice-president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, whose assets now amount to over $200,000,000. Although he was not the founder, he became its chief executive agent when it was hardly known to the public, and soon showed great business capacity. When the trustees of the company fixed his salary and income many years ago, at $75,000 per year, the public was surprised at this act of seeming extravagance. This was done before the period of large salaries commenced. It was at the time the largest paid in the United States. The managers of the association were far-sighted men, and had mapped out the growth of an organization beyond the dreams of even enterprising men. They counted on the enormous growth of population, and the desire of men to provide for those who survived them. This firm faith in expanding America was one of the secrets of Mr. Hyde's success. The results of his work at the end of thirty-five years surprised even Mr. Hyde himself. The command of several hundred millions of assets by a few men, to be cared for as the provision which thrifty or serious men make for those dependent on them is one of the striking features of modern social life. Men like Mr. Hyde are invaluable in a community.

The subscription of the amount needed to equip the Hawaiian exhibit at the Omaha Exposition should be made not for the purpose of direct pecuniary gain, but in order to show our fellow-citizens of the Mainland that we are quite like them, and are also civilized.

In spite of all that has been said and written about these islands, the majority of people in the States still are suspicious about our social conditions and too many of them believe we live in huts, and occasionally receive a newspaper from the Mainland. The Omaha Exposition gives another opportunity for us to show the multi-layers of the West that in advancing in the United States did a most sensible thing, and that it is a grievous mistake to class us among those who occupy the back seats in the congregation of the civilized.

AT GETTYSBURG.

Thirty-six years ago Abraham Lincoln delivered a speech at Gettysburg which stands now in the hearts of men as a message rivaling in patriotism and wisdom the farewell address of Gen. Washington. Scholars call it eloquent and equal to the great speeches which adorn the most momentous occasions in Anglo-Saxon history.

The incidents of its delivery become more interesting as time passes. The opinions of the men who sat on the Gettysburg platform when the speech was delivered are now the evidences of the short vision of man, and the failure of Lincoln's able contemporaries to mark the value of his thought on that occasion. The rising generation should understand how fallible human judgments are dealing with current events.

Col. Lamont, the Marshal of the District of Columbia, and Lincoln's aide and attendant says of the occasion and the speech:

"Mr. Everett's address was worthy of the solemn occasion and of his great fame as an orator. He was tumultuously applauded. While the President delivered his few hundred words the multitude observed perfect silence. One might have been able to hear the proverbial pin drop.

"As for me, I recognized the brief address, Lincoln having read the first draft to me a few days previous. This took place at my house in Washington, whither the President had come to spend the evening. On removing his hat on that occasion a folded sheet of foolscap paper dropped out.

"I will read that to you, Hill," he had said. "It is a memorandum of my forthcoming address. But, let me tell you, it is not at all satisfactory to me. You know, I am driven to death nowadays; still, the public will expect a supreme effort, nevertheless. I am afraid, though, it will be disappointed this time."

"What the Gettysburg audience thought of the speech I do not pretend to know. At any rate, the people indulged in no demonstrations; but we, on the platform, I am ashamed to say, felt much depressed on account of it. Mr. Everett, answering to a whispered question from Secretary Seward, bluntly said: 'I am disappointed. It was not what I expected from Mr. Lincoln.'"

"And what is your opinion, Mr. Seward?" asked Everett. Mr. Seward replied: 'He has made a botch of it, and I am very sorry. That speech was not worthy of Lincoln.'"

"The Secretary of State then asked my judgment. I could only regretfully endorse the criticisms already passed. For I felt, with the rest of Lincoln's friends, that his speech was not up to the mark."

When it was reported that the address was received with cheers and sob, Col. Lamont said:

"I am the only Lincoln biographer who was on that platform at Gettysburg. The others got their material second-hand, and among these writers were many, who, during Lincoln's lifetime, had run to their wits' end to blackguard the President. After his death they fell in with the general throng and lauded him to the sky. They positively invented so-called facts and incidents calculated to glorify Lincoln, and the apotheosis of the Gettysburg speech was only one of these maneuvers.

"I repeat, there were only perfunctory demonstrations of applause at the conclusion of Lincoln's remarks. Moreover, the President himself felt that he had made a failure. 'Lamont,' he said, shortly after it was finished, 'that speech won't secure. It's a flat failure, and the people are disappointed.' 'Won't secure' was Lincoln's favorite expression for lack of merit.

"Later on, at Washington, the President returned to the subject. 'Hill,' he said, 'I tell you that speech fell on the audience like a wet blanket. It distresses me to think of it. I ought to have prepared it with greater care. Similar remarks I heard from his lips then and again in after years.'"

The newspapers of the day were very severe in their criticisms of the speech, according to Col. Lamont:

"If a single word of praise was printed about the Gettysburg speech in 1863 I don't remember it. Most of the papers jumped on the President for using the phrase, 'the government of the people, by the people, and for the people,' calling him a plagiarist. This charge hurt Lincoln deeply. When he spoke those words he never suspected that they would be regarded as original. The thought, you know, is as old as the republican idea of government, and this particular phrase had been a household word with Lincoln for years previous to Gettysburg."

Are our own judgments about the events of our times, of the men who in a measure guide them, any better than the judgments of Lincoln's contemporaries and friends?

The truly eloquent and scholarly speech of Edward Everett is no longer read. The present generation are generally ignorant of its existence.

But as the mass of the people slowly comprehend the deep truths of Lincoln's thought, and what the real meaning is of rule by democracy, and the vast responsibility it creates, that speech takes its place in our literature as one of the best messages ever delivered by a conspicuous apostle of the rule of the people.

SUNDAY PAPERS.

The British public refuses to support Sunday newspapers, not because it is a more righteous public than the American, but because it has not abandoned its old ways of doing things. The American public will cordially support this proposition that it is itself at least equal, if not superior in moral worth and intelligence to the British public. And yet the Sunday newspaper has become a permanent and almost the best part of the current literature throughout the land. Some foolish preachers have had their fingers jammed in trying to close the door on it. Some religious newspapers have solemnly, but in vain, denounced its publication. It reaches now the majority of families and is welcome because of the high stand it has taken in furnishing excellent literature at the cheapest rate. Many people take only the Sunday edition of an enterprising newspaper in order to get the valuable material it contains. The best authors find some of their most profitable work in writing for the Sunday paper.

The American public, always more eager for news than the British public, naturally demanded these Sunday papers. The vast number of persons in the cities who do not attend church find in them both amusement and instruction.

Fortunately, the moral influence of these papers has been good. Few, indeed, are the preachers who can preach as well as the writers on these papers, because they are in the world and of it, and get nearer to the hearts of men. The average man who can read, understands the thought of the newspaper, but he does not, as a rule, understand the thought of the pulpit, because it gingerly touches on life, and persistently ignores the homely facts. The paper gives to its readers life as it is. The pulpit too generally gives it to its hearers as it is not.

Whether there should or should not be a Sunday newspaper is now only an academic question, because it is firmly established and entertains and instructs so many who refuse to enter the churches.

The British public is still under the force of its customs and habits of thought, which exclude what seems to be a profane act on Sunday. But this exclusion by no means indicates high standards of life. The English people who discourage Sunday papers insist that the beer shops should be opened during certain hours of the Sabbath, so that the public should not go thirsty. It is therefore, not so much a matter of morals as of habit that condemns the reading of papers on the Sabbath.

NAVAL PROMOTIONS.

There is much dissatisfaction among the officers of the navy about the promotions made for "distinguished services during the war." There are hard-headed men who are perfectly familiar with the exact history of the naval engagements, and have not lost their heads in taking account of what was done. The battle of Santiago is regarded by them as only a case of excellent gun practice. They know and say to each other that the Spanish fleet, with its smokeless powder and hitless guns, was not even a respectable foe. A distinguished naval officer, who recently visited this port, declares that the Spanish fleet should have concentrated upon one or two of our vessels and sunk them; that any naval commander with pluck would have done it. But the Spanish officers and men were conscious of their own inefficiency, and realized the result of the Manila fight. The affair is called a "great victory" over a weak antagonist, the victory of a mastiff over a pup.

Knowing, as these officers do, the exact nature of the service done, they see little "distinguished service" rendered by which certain officers have been unduly and unjustly promoted over others.

But the navy is at the mercy of a despotic press. In the rivalry between the correspondents of the enterprising journals, success in "powerful writing" was rather more important than the close truth. Facts were exaggerated, deeds which would come within the line of common duty were developed into heroic actions. The descriptive powers of the correspondents were exercised to the utmost in order to supply startling news. Careful estimates of the real value of services of officers were not made, because the popular mind demanded something "hot."

The public got first impressions and made them lasting impressions. The Navy Department, after careful examination, gave Sampson the credit of knocking over the poor, lame Spanish duck at Santiago. The public, influenced by the press, gave Schley the credit for it. The men at the guns have bitterly denounced Schley since the battle. Then the public asks these fighting sailors, "What do you know about war?" and gives Schley the honor. The European naval critics say little about the victory, but admire the superb gun practice.

In the volunteer service upon land, the heavy shower of brigadierships does little harm, because the service is ended. In the navy the officers serve for life. Promotion is a serious matter to them. For many years to come brave men will discharge their duties well, but the feeling will rankle that a "grateful country" lost its head and did them much injustice.

MEMBERS' SOCIAL.

Arranging for a Reception at the Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. social committee, composed of John Waterhouse, chairman; George Howard, R. Weedon, W. L. Templeton, C. A. Elston, W. E. Pinkham, W. I. Madeira, G. W. Burgess and Louis D. Gear, met last evening at the Association parlors and discussed the program for the members' social to be given a week from Thursday night. It is intended to make this one of the most informal and enjoyable affairs yet given by the Y. M. C. A. Special care will be taken to make all the new members feel at home and to have everybody get acquainted. Among the numbers will be musical selections by a quartette; Elston, Frazier and Peachy will manipulate the guitars and mandolins; Johnson, Batchelor and Clarke will perform some startling feats on the horizontal bars and flying trapeze; Atherton will twirl and gyrate the Indian clubs. Invitations will be issued to members only, but will include the privilege of bringing a friend.

A Birthday Party.

Will L. Peterson, the young financier, was 26 years of age yesterday, and Mrs. Peterson and friends gave him a birthday party at the home on Hotel street, near Punchbowl. The house is a fine, large, new one, and the lawn is pretty with trees, vines and flowers. The residence was dressed for the occasion, and the grounds were brightly illuminated. There was much excellent music, and dancing was indulged in. In the course of the dinner, which was quite elaborate, good wishes were showered on both Mr. and Mrs. Peterson. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Richy, Mr. and Mrs. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Wheatly, Joseph and Winnie Wheatly, all of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Ryrie and Mr. Hooper, of Moscow, Idaho; Mr. and Mrs. Gill, of Wheaton, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Richards, of Spokane, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Ellison of Vancouver, B. C.; Dr. Atchery, of Kaula; Dr. Jennings, J. A. Hurl, Mr. Weedon, J. B. Peterson, J. C. Peterson, William A. Cottrell and A. Robinson, all of Honolulu.

Funeral This Morning.

The funeral of Joseph Nahale, the student who died at Kamehameha school last week, will be held this morning at 8 o'clock. Rev. Silas Perry will be in charge of the service, and Professor Theo. Richards will preach the sermon. All friends and relatives are invited. After the services the manual and preparatory students will march to the Inter-island wharf, in military order, and will do military honors to the remains, which will go by the Mauna Loa to Kailua.

Electric Power.

The McHyde Sugar Company will be supplied with electricity developed by the Hanapepe falls, and the streams of Koula. The work will be entrusted to F. J. Cross, $50,000 having been set aside for this purpose. In addition to Mr. Cross, F. B. McStocker, M. P. Stillman and J. A. Magoon will be included in the syndicate.

Adaptability of Wireless Telegraphy

Pointed out.

TRIAL OF IT HERE URGED

A Claim that Marconi's System Can be Placed—Width of Channel—In Advance of Cable.

Editor P. C. A.: It has now been abundantly proved that the Marconi system of wireless telegraphy is—with certain limits, at least—a complete success. It is true that the distance—thirty-two miles—covered, so far, is not great, but the accuracy and promptitude with which messages have been transmitted and received between the South Foreland, England, and Boulogne, on the coast of France, under all sorts and conditions of weather, leaves no doubt as to its practicability.

Further, the complete success of the experiments between the South Foreland and the Goodwin Lightship, shows that many of the dangers and inconveniences of travel on the trackless ocean may be eliminated, and we have reason to hope that the ships on our great waterways may soon be as easily communicated with as the trains on any of our railroads.

The system is also cheap and its operation is simple. According to the estimate of Professor Fleming, of London University, the total cost of the installation at the South Foreland would not exceed $500. Here, then, is what we want in the Islands, a system which is cheap, accurate, and easy of manipulation. The widest channel in the group, that between Oahu and Kaula, is but sixty-one miles across, at its narrowest part. This stretch, according to Marconi's rule, would require a vertical wire of about 160 feet. All the other channels are less than thirty miles at their narrowest parts. Their cases could, therefore, all be met with wires from 80 to 120 feet in height.

We are much in need of rapid inter-island communication. The Islands, as they lie, are eminently adapted for such a system. We have the cliffs standing on every island ready to receive the vertical insulated wires. We have the restless business men and plantation managers chafing over our isolation, when news delayed for three or four days may mean the loss or gain of as many thousands of dollars.

The cheapness and utility of the system is beyond question. Lord Kelvin has seen it, tried it, and given it the stamp of his approval. Many other eminent scientists have done likewise, but the stamp of Kelvin alone is sufficient to clear away all doubt. Sig. Marconi is still busy elaborating his system, and we wish this brilliant young Italian every success, but enough has already been done with the system as it stands to show that it meets a long-felt want. I suppose we will have cable communication with the Mainland sooner or later—most likely later—but I don't expect we will ever see an inter-island cable. Wireless telegraphy will be able to meet all our requirements. Let us begin now and be able to give the big cable a hearty greeting when it does come. A little enterprising capital is all that is required. We are rich, and we own the country; let us furnish it in a manner befitting our importance, and our times.

GEN. GREELY'S VIEW.

(Hilo Tribune.)

During the recent visit of Mr. L. T. Grant to Washington, he interviewed Gen. A. W. Greely, Chief of the Signal Office of the War Department, upon the subject of the Marconi wireless telegraphy with which experiments were at that time, and are still, being made. Mr. Grant's purpose was to learn as to the practicability of this system and the advisability of its being applied to inter-island communication in Hawaii. Gen. Greely said that up to that time the system had hardly been found practicable. They had succeeded in signaling five miles or so, though results were often dubious. He could not recommend it for island distances. He suggested, however, the heliograph system and requested Mr. Grant to furnish what data he could applicable to the subject, which Mr. Grant did by letter a little later. Gen. Greely's reply, given below, will be found of interest.

Washington, May 6, 1899.
Mr. Louis T. Grant, Gen. Mgr. Hilo Elec. Light Co., Ltd., Hilo, H. I.
Sir:—In reply to your letter of April 27th, I have to say that the data contained therein is not sufficient to determine whether or not communication by heliograph is practicable. The matter will, however, be taken up at once by this Department and if possible, stations will be established under the direction of the commanding officer of the troops. The final solution of the problem will be to connect the Islands by submarine cables, for which purpose a special appropriation will be required. Very respectfully,

A. W. GREELY,
Brig. Gen., Chief Signal Officer, U. S. A.

They have recognized the British citizenship of the meanest coolie, and given them a certain protection. Time and again the British colonial planters have sent protests to the home Government against alleged arbitrary acts of these governors, but the "missionary" influence at home has usually defeated their schemes and forced them to live up to some measure of justice.

A REMARKABLE MAN.

Mr. Henry B. Hyde, who recently died in New York city, was one of the most successful business men of his generation. At the time of his death he was the vice-president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, whose assets now amount to over $200,000,000. Although he was not the founder, he became its chief executive agent when it was hardly known to the public, and soon showed great business capacity. When the trustees of the company fixed his salary and income many years ago, at $75,000 per year, the public was surprised at this act of seeming extravagance. This was done before the period of large salaries commenced. It was at the time the largest paid in the United States. The managers of the association were far-sighted men, and had mapped out the growth of an organization beyond the dreams of even enterprising men. They counted on the enormous growth of population, and the desire of men to provide for those who survived them. This firm faith in expanding America was one of the secrets of Mr. Hyde's success. The results of his work at the end of thirty-five years surprised even Mr. Hyde himself. The command of several hundred millions of assets by a few men, to be cared for as the provision which thrifty or serious men make for those dependent on them is one of the striking features of modern social life. Men like Mr. Hyde are invaluable in a community.

The subscription of the amount needed to equip the Hawaiian exhibit at the Omaha Exposition should be made not for the purpose of direct pecuniary gain, but in order to show our fellow-citizens of the Mainland that we are quite like them, and are also civilized.

In spite of all that has been said and written about these islands, the majority of people in the States still are suspicious about our social conditions, and too many of them believe we live in huts, and occasionally receive a newspaper from the Mainland. The Omaha Exposition gives another opportunity for us to show the multitudes of the West that in annexing the United States did a most sensible thing, and that it is a grievous mistake to class us among those who occupy the back seats in the congregation of the civilized.

AT GETTYSBURG.

Thirty-six years ago Abraham Lincoln delivered a speech at Gettysburg which stands now in the hearts of men as a message rivaling in patriotism and wisdom the farewell address of Gen. Washington. Scholars call it eloquent and equal to the great speeches which adorn the most momentous occasions in Anglo-Saxon history.

The incidents of its delivery become more interesting as time passes. The opinions of the men who sat on the Gettysburg platform when the speech was delivered are now the evidences of the short vision of man, and the failure of Lincoln's able contemporaries to mark the value of his thought on that occasion. The rising generation should understand how fallible human judgments are dealing with current events.

Col. Lamon, the Marshal of the District of Columbia, and Lincoln's aide and attendant says of the occasion and the speech:

"Mr. Everett's address was worthy of the solemn occasion and of his great fame as an orator. He was tumultuously applauded. While the President delivered his few hundred words the multitude observed perfect silence. One might have been able to hear the proverbial pin drop.

"As for me, I recognized the brief address, Lincoln having read the first draft to me a few days previous. This took place at my house in Washington, whither the President had come to spend the evening. On removing his hat on that occasion a folded sheet of foolscap paper dropped out.

"I will read that to you, Hill," he said. "It is a memorandum of my forthcoming address. But, let me tell you it is not at all satisfactory to me. You know, I am driven to death nowadays; still, the public will expect a supreme effort, nevertheless. I am afraid, though, it will be disappointed this time."

"What the Gettysburg audience thought of the speech I do not pretend to know. At any rate, the people indulged in no demonstrations; but we, on the platform, I am ashamed to say, felt much depressed on account of it. Mr. Everett, answering to a whispered question from Secretary Seward, bluntly said: 'I am disappointed. It was not what I expected from Mr. Lincoln.'"

"And what was your opinion, Mr. Seward?" added Everett. Mr. Seward replied: 'He has made a botch of it, and I am very sorry. That speech was not worthy of Lincoln.'"

"The Secretary of State then asked my judgment. I could only regretfully endorse the criticisms already passed, for I felt, with the rest of Lincoln's friends, that his speech was not up to the mark."

When it was reported that the address was received with cheers and sobs, Col. Lamon said:

"I am the only Lincoln biographer who was on that platform at Gettysburg. The others got their material second-hand, and among these writers were many who, during Lincoln's lifetime, had run to their wits' end to blackguard the President. After his death they fell in with the general throng and lauded him to the sky. They positively invented so-called facts and incidents calculated to glorify Lincoln, and the apotheosis of the Gettysburg speech was only one of these maneuvers."

"I repeat, there were only perfunctory demonstrations of applause at the conclusion of Lincoln's remarks. Moreover, the President himself felt that he had made a failure. 'Lamon,' he said, shortly after it was finished, 'that speech won't scour. It's a flat failure, and the people are disappointed.' 'Won't scour' was Lincoln's favorite expression for lack of merit."

"Later on, at Washington, the President returned to the subject. 'Hill,' he said, 'I tell you that speech fell on the audience like a wet blanket. It distresses me to think of it. I ought to have prepared it with greater care. Similar remarks I heard from his lips time and again in after years.'"

The newspapers of the day were very severe in their criticisms of the speech, according to Col. Lamon:

"If a single word of praise was printed about the Gettysburg speech in 1863 I don't remember it. Most of the papers jumped on the President for using the phrase, 'the government of the people, by the people, and for the people,' calling him a plagiarist. 'This charge hurt Lincoln deeply. When he spoke those words he never suspected that they would be regarded as original. The thought, you know, is as old as the republican idea of government, and this particular phrase had been a household word with Lincoln for years previous to Gettysburg.'"

Are our own judgments about the events of our times, of the men who in a measure guide them, any better than the judgments of Lincoln's contemporaries and friends?

But as the mass of the people slowly comprehend the deep truths of Lincoln's thought, and what the real meaning is of rule by democracy, and the vast responsibility it creates, that

speech takes its place in our literature as one of the best messages ever delivered by a conspicuous apostle of the rule of the people.

SUNDAY PAPERS.

The British public refuses to support Sunday newspapers, not because it is a more righteous public than the American, but because it has not abandoned its old ways of doing things. The American public will cordially support this proposition that it is itself at least equal, if not superior in moral worth and intelligence to the British public. And yet the Sunday newspaper has become a permanent and almost the best part of the current literature throughout the land. Some foolish preachers have had their fingers jammed in trying to close the door on it. Some religious newspapers have solemnly, but in vain, denounced its publication. It reaches now the majority of families and is welcome because of the high stand it has taken in furnishing excellent literature at the cheapest rate. Many people take only the Sunday edition of an enterprising newspaper in order to get the valuable material it contains. The best authors find some of their most profitable work in writing for the Sunday paper.

The American public, always more eager for news than the British public, naturally demanded these Sunday papers. The vast number of persons in the cities who do not attend church find in them both amusement and instruction.

Fortunately, the moral influence of these papers has been good. Few, indeed, are the preachers who can preach as well as the writers on these papers, because they are in the world and of it, and get nearer to the hearts of men. The average man who can read, understands the thought of the newspaper, but he does not, as a rule, understand the thought of the pulpit, because it gingerly touches on life, and persistently ignores the homely facts. The paper gives to its readers life as it is. The pulpit too generally gives it to its hearers as it is not.

Whether there should or should not be a Sunday newspaper is now only an academic question, because it is firmly established and entertains and instructs so many who refuse to enter the churches.

The British public is still under the force of its customs and habits of thought, which exclude what seems to be a profane act on Sunday. But this exclusion by no means indicates high standards of life. The English people who discourage Sunday papers insist that the beer shops should be opened during certain hours of the Sabbath, so that the public should not go thirsty. It is therefore, not so much a matter of morals as of habit that condemns the reading of papers on the Sabbath.

NAVAL PROMOTIONS.

There is much dissatisfaction among the officers of the navy about the promotions made for "distinguished services during the war." There are hard-headed men who are perfectly familiar with the exact history of the naval engagements, and have not lost their heads in taking account of what was done. The battle of Santiago is regarded by them as only a case of excellent gun practice. They know and say to each other that the Spanish fleet, with its smokeless powder and hitless guns, was not even a respectable foe. A distinguished naval officer, who recently visited this port, declares that the Spanish fleet should have concentrated upon one or two of our vessels and sunk them; that any naval commander with pluck would have done it. But the Spanish officers and men were conscious of their own inefficiency, and realized the result of the Manila fight. The affair is called a "great victory" over a weak antagonist, the victory of a mastiff over a pup.

But the navy is at the mercy of a despotic press. In the rivalry between the correspondents of the enterprising journals, success in "powerful writing" was rather more important than the close truth. Facts were exaggerated, deeds which would come within the line of common duty were developed into heroic actions. The descriptive powers of the correspondents were exercised to the utmost in order to supply startling news. Careful estimates of the real value of services of officers were not made, because the popular mind demanded something "hot."

The public got first impressions and made them lasting impressions. The Navy Department, after careful examination, gave Sampson the credit of knocking over the poor, lame Spanish duck at Santiago. The public, influenced by the press, gave Schley the credit for it. The men at the guns have bitterly denounced Schley since Suffered With Dyspepsia and Unable to Do Her Work—Completely Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I suffered with dyspepsia and could not do any kind of housework. I was very nervous and could not sleep. I heard so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla that I bought a bottle. I found it gave me relief and I bought six bottles. When I had taken them I was cured. I can now do my housework and can sleep well at night." MRS. HAMES, 1730 Prospect Avenue, Helena, Montana.

"I have found Hood's Sarsaparilla excellent for building up and strengthening the system when it is in a run down or exhausted condition." MRS. SARAH M. STROOK, Red Lodge, Montana.

the battle. Then the public asks these fighting sailors, "What do you know about war?" and gives Schley the honor. The European naval critics say little about the victory, but admire the superb gun practice.

In the volunteer service upon land, the heavy shower of brigadierships does little harm, because the service is ended. In the navy the officers serve for life. Promotion is a serious matter to them. For many years to come brave men will discharge their duties well, but the feeling will rankle that a "grateful country" lost its head and did them much injustice.

MEMBERS' SOCIAL.

Arranging for a Reception at the Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. social committee, composed of John Waterhouse, chairman; George Howard, R. Weedon, W. L. Templeton, C. A. Elston, W. E. Plinkham, W. I. Madeira, G. W. Burgess and Louis D. Gear, met last evening at the Association parlors and discussed the program for the members' social to be given a week from Thursday night. It is intended to make this one of the most informal and enjoyable affairs yet given by the Y. M. C. A. Special care will be taken to make all the new members feel at home and to have everybody get acquainted. Among the numbers will be musical selections by a quartette; Elston, Frazier and Peachy will manipulate the guitars and mandolins; Johnson, Batchelor and Clarke will perform some startling feats on the horizontal bars and flying trapeze; Atherton will twirl and gyrate the Indian clubs. Invitations will be issued to members only, but will include the privilege of bringing a friend.

A Birthday Party.

Will L. Peterson, the young financier, was 26 years of age yesterday, and Mrs. Peterson and friends gave him a birthday party at the home on Hotel street, near Punchbowl. The house is a fine, large, new one, and the lawn is pretty with trees, vines and flowers. The residence was dressed for the occasion, and the grounds were brightly illuminated. There was much excellent music, and dancing was indulged in. In the course of the dinner, which was quite elaborate, good wishes were showered on both Mr. and Mrs. Peterson. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Riechy, Mr. and Mrs. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Wheatly, Joseph and Winnie Wheatly, all of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Byrie and Mr. Hooper, of Moscow, Idaho; Mr. and Mrs. Gill, of Whitecourt, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Richards, of Spokane, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Ellison of Vancouver, B. C.; Dr. Atcherson, of Kana; Dr. Jennings, J. A. Hurl, Mr. Weedon, J. B. Peterson, J. C. Peterson, William A. Cottrell and A. Robinson, all of Honolulu.

Funeral This Morning.

The funeral of Joseph Nahale, the student who died at Kamehameha school last week, will be held this morning at 8 o'clock. Rev. Silas Perry will be in charge of the service, and Professor Theo. Richards will preach the sermon. All friends and relatives are invited. After the services the manual and preparatory students will march to the Inter-Island wharf, in military order, and will do military honors to the remains, which will go by the Mauna Loa to Kailua.

Electric Power.

The McBryde Sugar Company will be supplied with electricity developed by the Hanapepe falls, and the streams of Koula. The work will be entrusted to F. J. Cross, $50,000 having been set aside for this purpose. In addition to Mr. Cross, F. B. McStocker, M. P. Silliman and J. A. Magoon will be included in the syndicate.

IN LIEU OF CABLE

Adaptability of Wireless Telegraphy Pointed out.

TRIAL OF IT HERE URGED

A Claim that Marconi's System Can be Placed—Width of Channel—Is Advance of Cable.

Editor P. C. A.: It has now been abundantly proved that the Marconi system of wireless telegraphy is—with certain limits, at least—a complete success. It is true that the distance—thirty-two miles—covered, so far, is not great, but the accuracy and promptitude with which messages have been transmitted and received between the South Foreland, England, and Boulogne, on the coast of France, under all sorts and conditions of weather, leaves no doubt as to its practicability.

Further, the complete success of the experiments between the South Foreland and the Goodwin Lightship, shows that many of the dangers and inconveniences of travel on the trackless ocean may be eliminated, and we have reason to hope that the ships on our great waterways may soon be as easily communicated with as the trains on any of our railroads.

The system is also cheap and its operation is simple. According to the estimate of Professor Fleming, of London University, the total cost of the installation at the South Foreland would not exceed $500. Here, then, is what we want in the islands, a system which is cheap, accurate, and easy of manipulation. The widest channel in the group, that between Oahu and Kauai, is but sixty-one miles across, at its narrowest part. This stretch, according to Marconi's rule, would require a vertical wire of about 160 feet. All the other channels are less than thirty miles at their narrowest parts. Their cases could, therefore, all be met with wires from 80 to 120 feet in height.

We are much in need of rapid inter-island communication. The islands, as they lie, are eminently adapted for such a system. We have the cliffs standing on every island ready to receive the vertical insulated wires. We have the restless business men and plantation managers chafing over our isolation, when news delayed for three or four days may mean the loss or gain of as many thousands of dollars.

The cheapness and utility of the system is beyond question. Lord Kelvin has seen it, tried it, and given it the stamp of his approval. Many other eminent scientists have done likewise, but the stamp of Kelvin alone is sufficient to clear away all doubt. Sig. Marconi is still busy elaborating his system, and we wish this brilliant young Italian every success, but enough has already been done with the system as it stands to show that it meets a long-felt want. I suppose we will have cable communication with the Mainland sooner or later—most likely later—but I don't expect we will ever see an inter-island cable. Wireless telegraphy will be able to meet all our requirements. Let us begin now and be able to give the big cable a hearty greeting when it does come. A little enterprising capital is all that is required. We are rich, and we own the country; let us furnish it in a manner befitting our importance, and our times.

Kauai, May 22, 1899.

GEN. GREELY'S VIEW.

(Hilo Tribune.)

During the recent visit of Mr. L. T. Grant to Washington, he interviewed Gen. A. W. Greely, Chief of the Signal Office of the War Department, upon the subject of the Marconi wireless telegraph with which experiments were at that time, and are still, being made. Mr. Grant's purpose was to learn as to the practicability of this system and the advisability of its being applied to inter-island communication in Hawaii. Gen. Greely said that up to that time the system had hardly been found practicable. They had succeeded in signaling five miles or so, though results were often dubious. He could not recommend it for island distances. He suggested, however, the heliograph system and requested Mr. Grant to furnish what data he could applicable to the subject, which Mr. Grant did by letter a little later. Gen. Greely's reply, given below, will be found of interest:

Washington, May 6, 1899.

Mr. Louis T. Grant, Gen. Mgr. Hilo Elec. Light Co., Ltd., Hilo, H. I.
Sir:—In reply to your letter of April 27th, I have to say that the data contained therein is not sufficient to determine whether or not communication by heliograph is practicable. The matter will, however, be taken up at once by this Department and if possible, stations will be established under the direction of the commanding officer of the troops. The final solution of the problem will be to connect the islands by submarine cables, for which purpose a special appropriation will be required. Very respectfully,

A. W. GREELY.

THE GREAT PUMPING PLANT

A New Cane Carrying Plant in Use. Manager of Maunaloa-The Social Side-Shipping-Winds.

Mau, May 27, 1899.

Last evening, May 26th, the May meeting of the Makawao Literary Society was held at the residence of Manager W. J. Lowrie of Spreckelsville. The following programme of events was much appreciated:

1. Piano solo.....Dr. Sabey
2. Reading, "The Colonel".....
3. Vocal solo.....Mr. Andrew Adams
4. Piano solo.....Rev. W. Ault
5. Reading.....Miss Clara Lowrie
6. Vocal solo.....Mrs. Sabey
7. Vocal solo "Only One Girl".....

After the refreshments Makawao people drove homeward, not only enjoying the entertainment, but the ride by moonlight.

Wednesday evening, the 24th, a large dancing party was given in the Walluku Courthouse in honor of the eightieth birthday of Queen Victoria. The interior of the hall was prettily decorated, and lively music by a string band kept up the dancing until the "wee sma' hours." A fine spread was one of the pleasurable events of the evening. Messrs. George Cummings and George Hayselden acted as floor managers. A train was run bringing Paia, Spreckelsville and Kahului people. The entertainment was arranged by Deputy Sheriff Scott, Dr. Armitage, Dr. Weddick, Judge McKay and other British residents of Walluku.

Saturday evening, the 26th, the Aloha Lodge, K. of P., gave a grand ball in Spreckelsville Hall, in which 125 residents of Walluku and Makawao districts participated. The interior of the hall was made attractive by decorations of ferns and red, yellow and blue bunting, the Pythian colors. At one end of the hall was a case of arms of the order. Mr. E. B. Carley, made an efficient floor manager, and the Walhee Quintette Club furnished the music. The Kahului R. R. Co's train ran from Walluku and Kahului. Dancing continued until midnight.

Engineer Stoddard of Spreckelsville has recently been appointed manager of Maunaloa plantation of Lanai. Having accepted this position, Mr. Stoddard has been obliged to forego his anticipated trip through the Southern States and Cuba in search of improved methods of machinery in the new H. C. Co's mill, soon to be constructed at Kahului. Apropos of this new mill, which will be the largest and best in the Islands, it is stated that the largest pumping plant in Hawaii now, capable of pumping 75,000,000 gallons a day, will be established at Kahului.

The firm of Fraser & Chalmers is putting in a large pump which will draw water from five wells at Maliko gulch for the use of Hamakua plantation.

The Haiku Sugar Company has added another improvement which is attracting considerable attention. It is a wire trolley for the conveyance of cane from Kalaunui to the mill at Hamakua plantation. Lahaina plantation has been using two such trolleys successfully. Albert Horner, of Hawaii, has a patent by which the pulleys which convey the bundles of cane downward can pass the different posts in safety.

Saturday, the 26th, the trustees of Maunaloa Seminary held a meeting at Paia. The bids by Honolulu contractors for the construction of the new school varied from $32,000 to $23,900. It was decided to give California builders a chance to send in estimates. The Seminary will close on June 21st. Two of the teachers—Misses Steele and Ward—have resigned.

A kindergarten school is to be established by Hamakua plantation. The old Hamakua plantation Government school building, recently purchased by the plantation, is to be used for a school, and Miss Steele, now at Maunaloa Seminary, is to be the teacher.

The Board of Registration of Maui has been registering voters at Paia, Hamakua, Kahului and Spreckelsville during the week. The registration at Paia, Hamakua and Kahului is slightly larger than in 1897.

William White, Esq., of Lahaina, is another candidate for "Iunamakalana."

H. P. Baldwin leaves Maui this week for a flying visit to the coast. He will remain in San Francisco about a week.

NEW OLAA LANDS

Plans for Selection Discussed by a Surveyor.

Great Demand for the Lots—Long Term of Residence Required, Close Questioning Settlements.

(Hawaii Herald.)

The Land Department of the Government has practically decided upon a plan of disposing of the tract of land to be opened in Olaa. Owing to the enormous demand for holdings and the possible desire on the part of some of the applicants to realize largely and promptly the lands will probably be sold at auction to the highest bidder and a clause will be inserted in the agreements providing for a five years' actual residence. Mr. Baldwin admits that this will probably be the plan adopted, but definite instructions to that effect have not yet been received. He said to a reporter for the Herald:

"When I was in Honolulu a couple of weeks ago I had a conversation with Land Commissioner Brown regarding the opening of the lands in Olaa, and he suggested the adopting of the same plan that is in force in Hamakua, and I think the lands will be sold to the highest bidder to be paid for in cash at the time of purchase, or on the same plan as the right of purchase leases where interest only on the amount is collected during the term specified. The five years' residence clause will be inserted so that speculation can be, to a great extent, avoided. A man can buy land under the present terms and put on a 'dummy' to fill the requirements of the law for two years, but it may be difficult for him to do this for five years. It is this 'dummy' business the Government will try to stop. There is being printed in Honolulu a form containing a list of questions to be answered and sworn to by holders of right of purchase leases as the Government intends to ascertain as near as possible just how closely the law is being carried out. These answers will include the name of the holder, his residence and place of business, when he went on the land, how long he resided there and such other information as may be deemed necessary.

"Some people have an idea they can live and do business in Hilo or elsewhere and still hold their land; this is not correct. A man with a wife or family might live in Hilo and attend to his business here and hold his land provided his wife or his family had actually resided on the land he had secured under lease. Two places of residence will hardly fill the bill.

"Another mistake has been made by people right here in Hilo. They own homes in the town and have taken up Government land in Olaa or Puna upon favorable terms. The Government will not allow this under any circumstances as the agreements provided that they must not be the owners of other lands. When the time comes for paying up these people will discover their mistake to their cost.

"I do not know what will be done in the matter of settlement associations; those things are attended to entirely at the Land Office in Honolulu and all applications that I have received have been sent down. Under that clause in the Land Act not more than one hundred acres can be assigned a single family and not less than six families can apply for land to be set apart for their use in this way. My impression is that the lands must be occupied within three months from the time the land is transferred to the association. The only exception to this vicinity is over by Laupahoehoe, which H. B. Gehr is at the head of. So far only seven families have signified their intention of locating there, whether or not there are more to come I do not know. He took up 1700 acres, which means that seventeen families should live there. Eight associations have filed their applications for lands for settlements in Olaa, most of them asking for the same lots, and by actual calculation there would be just enough land in the lots to accommodate two and one-half associations. I have no information as to what the Department will do, probably a compromise of some kind may be effected or the Government may decide to give them land somewhere else. No definite time has been set for the opening of the land and the settlement matters cannot be attended to until this is done."

FOR THE GRAVES

Flowers Will be Carried to the Mounds Today.

Observance of Memorial Day Under G. A. R. Auspices—Procession—The Exercises.

All the Government offices will close at noon today in observance of Memorial Day. Several of the stores will be closed all day and nearly all will close from noon on.

At 2 o'clock the procession of the day will form with the right at the corner of Alakea and Hotel streets. Headed by the Kamehameha School Band, the column will move at 2:30 p. m., proceeding to Nuuanu cemetery.

Upon arriving at the cemetery after a selection by the band, Post Commander L. L. La Pierre will read the first part of the Grand Army ritual. The prayer will be given by Chaplain R. Jay Greene. The concluding part of the ritual will then be read by the post commander. The graves will then be decorated. Loving hands have been at work for some time on the flowers and the graves will be covered with beautiful garlands. After decorating the graves the choir will render a selection, which will be followed by the reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address by Bruce Hartman, Battery I, Sixth Artillery. The oration of the day will be delivered by Sgt. Maj. Edw. J. Wilson, of the Sixth Artillery. The speaker is known to be eloquent and will no doubt utter an inspiring address. Adjutant Copeland will call the roll of the dead, which will be followed by the firing of a salute. The benediction will be pronounced by Rev. W. M. Kincaid.

Everything points to a successful and appropriate celebration of the day. The N. G. H. will be in the column, headed by the Government band.

CHINESE BURGLARS.

The "Ex-Corpus" and Partner Request Further Time.

Ah Oi, the Chinese who is charged with burglarizing Dr. Murray's residence, was arraigned before Judge Wilcox yesterday morning. With him was his accomplice, Ah Hin. By request of both defendants the case was continued to June 1st.

It seems that Deputy Marshal Chillingworth had quite a time in inducing Ah Hin to "play dead."

The native girls who live in the same house with Ah Oi were the first to see the "dead" man. Chillingworth took care that they viewed the "corpse" from the proper point, in order that they might not be startled by any movement of the eyelids or facial muscles. The Deputy Marshal calmly informed them that unless they told of Ah Oi's whereabouts they would spend the rest of the day and night with the corpse. That was the last straw. They immediately told how Ah Oi had left the house at 2 o'clock in the morning and didn't get back until after 4. This was a good beginning, and from that the detective deputy worked until he had landed Ah Oi behind the bars, with a plentiful supply of strong evidence against him.

A Neon Wedding.

The wedding of George Ordway and Miss Virginia McAnan, celebrated at the Catholic Cathedral last Saturday, was quiet, yet pretty. The bride made a handsome appearance clad in a rich gown of white silk, as she walked down the aisle to meet her future husband. The groom also looked well as he clasped the hand of his bride. He was accompanied by his brother, E. J. Ordway, who acted as best man. The bride was given away by her mother, Mrs. C. D. Wright, wife of a prominent San Jose attorney.

Two places of residence will hardly fill the bill.

"Another mistake has been made by people right here in Hilo. They own homes in the town and have taken up Government land in Olaa or Puna upon favorable terms. The Government will not allow this under any circumstances as the agreements provided that they must not be the owners of other lands. When the time comes for paying up these people will discover their mistake to their cost.

"I do not know what will be done in the matter of settlement associations; those things are attended to entirely at the Land Office in Honolulu and all applications that I have received have been sent down. Under that clause in the Land Act not more than one hundred acres can be assigned a single family and not less than six families can apply for land to be set apart for their use in this way. My impression is that the lands must be occupied within three months from the time the land is transferred to the association. The only exception to this vicinity is over by Laupahoehoe, which H. B. Gehr is at the head of. So far only seven families have signified their intention of locating there, whether or not there are more to come I do not know. He took up 1700 acres, which means that seventeen families should live there. Eight associations have filed their applications for lands for settlements in Olaa, most of them asking for the same lots, and by actual calculation there would be just enough land in the lots to accommodate two and one-half associations. I have no information as to what the Department will do, probably a compromise of some kind may be effected or the Government may decide to give them land somewhere else. No definite time has been set for the opening of the land and the settlement matters cannot be attended to until this is done."

"Some people have an idea they can live and do business in Hilo or elsewhere and still hold their land; this is not correct. A man with a wife or family might live in Hilo and attend to his business here and hold his land provided his wife or his family had actually resided on the land he had secured under lease. Two places of residence will hardly fill the bill.

Sure Cure

for Colds

When the children get their feet wet and take cold give them a hot foot-bath, a bowl of hot drink, a dose of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and put them to bed. The chances are they will be all right in the morning. Continue the Cherry Pectoral a few days, until all cough has disappeared.

Old coughs are also cured; we mean the coughs of bronchitis, weak throats and irritable lungs. Even the hard coughs of consumption are always made easy and sometimes cured by the continued use of

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Your own doctor will explain this to you. He knows that wild cherry bark is the best remedy known to medical science for soothing and healing inflamed throats and lungs. You may rely upon Ayer's Cherry Pectoral to stop your cough.

Beware of worthless imitations. The name Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is blown in the glass of each bottle. Put up in two sizes.

THE GREAT PUMPING PLANT

A New Cane Carrying Plant in Use. Manager of Maunaloa—The Social Side—Shipping—Winds.

Mau, May 27, 1899.

Last evening, May 26th, the May meeting of the Makawao Literary Society was held at the residence of Manager W. J. Lowrie of Spreckelsville. The following programme of events was much appreciated:

1. Piano solo.....Dr. Sabey
2. Reading, "The Colonel,".....Mr. Andrew Adams
3. Vocal solo.....Rev. W. Ault
4. Piano solo.....Miss Clara Lowrie
5. Reading.....Mrs. Sabey
6. Vocal solo.....Rev. W. Ault
7. Vocal solo "Only One Girl,".....Willie Lowrie

After the refreshments Makawao people drove homeward, not only enjoying the entertainment, but the ride by moonlight.

Wednesday evening, the 24th, a large dancing party was given in the Wailuku Courthouse in honor of the eightieth birthday of Queen Victoria. The interior of the hall was prettily decorated, and lively music by a string band kept up the dancing until the " wee sma' hours." A fine spread was one of the pleasurable events of the evening. Messrs. George Cummings and George Hayselden acted as floor managers. A train was run bringing Paia, Spreckelsville and Kahului people. The entertainment was arranged by Deputy Sheriff Scott, Dr. Armitage, Dr. Weddick, Judge McKay and other British residents of Wailuku.

Saturday evening, the 26th, the Aloha Lodge, K. of P., gave a grand ball in Spreckelsville Hall, in which 125 residents of Wailuku and Makawao districts participated. The interior of the hall was made attractive by decorations of ferns and red, yellow and blue bunting, the Pythian colors. At one end of the hall was the coat of arms of the order. Mr. E. B. Carley, made an excellent floor manager, and the Wailuku Quintette Club furnished the music. The Kahului R. R. Co.'s train ran from Wailuku and Kahului. Dancing continued until midnight.

Engineer Stoddard of Spreckelsville has recently been appointed manager of Maunaloa plantation of Lanai. Having accepted this position, Mr. Stoddard has been obliged to forego his anticipated trip through the Southern States and Cuba in search of improved methods of machinery in the new H. C. Co's mill, soon to be constructed at Kahului. Apropos of this new mill, which will be the largest and best in the Islands, it is stated that the largest pumping plant in Hawaii net, capable of pumping 75,000,000 gallons a day, will be established at Kahului.

The firm of Fraser & Chalmers is putting in a large pump which will draw water from five wells at Maliko gulch for the use of Hamakua plantation.

The Haiku Sugar Company has added another improvement which is attracting considerable attention. It is a wire trolley for the conveyance of cane from Kahuana to the mill at Hamakua. Lahaina plantation has been using two such trolleys successfully. Albert Horner, of Hawaii, has a patent by which the pulleys which convey the bundles of cane downward can pass the different posts in safety.

Saturday, the 26th, the trustees of Maunaloa Seminary held a meeting at Paia. The bids by Honolulu contractors for the construction of the new school varied from $22,000 to $23,000. It was decided to give California builders a chance to send in estimates. The Seminary will close on June 21st. Two of the teachers—Misses Steele and Ward—have resigned.

A kindergarten school is to be established by Hamakua plantation. The old Hamakua plantation Government school building, recently purchased by the plantation, is to be used for a school, and Miss Steele, now at Maunaloa Seminary, is to be the teacher.

The Board of Registration of Maui has been registering voters at Paia, Hamakua, Kahului and Spreckelsville during the week. The registration at Paia, Hamakua and Kahului is slightly larger than in 1897.

William White, Esq., of Lahaina, is another candidate for "Tunamaka-nana."

NEW OLAA LANDS

Plans for Selection Discussed by a Surveyor.

MAY BE SALE AT AUCTION

Great Demand for the Lots—Long Term of Residence Required, Close Questioning Settlements.

(Hawaii Herald.)

The Land Department of the Government has practically decided upon a plan of disposing of the tract of land to be opened in Olaa. Owing to the enormous demand for holdings and the possible desire on the part of some of the applicants to realize largely and promptly the lands will probably be sold at auction to the highest bidder and a clause will be inserted in the agreements providing for a five years' actual residence. Mr. Baldwin admits that this will probably be the plan adopted, but definite instructions to that effect have not yet been received. He said to a reporter for the Herald:

"When I was in Honolulu a couple of weeks ago I had a conversation with Land Commissioner Brown regarding the opening of the lands in Olaa, and he suggested the adopting of the same plan that is in force in Hamakua, and I think the lands will be sold to the highest bidder to be paid for in cash at the time of purchase, or on the same plan as the right of purchase leases where interest only on the amount is collected during the term specified. The five years' residence clause will be inserted so that speculation can be, to a great extent, avoided. A man can buy land under the present terms and put on a 'dummy' to fill the requirements of the law for two years, but it may be difficult for him to do this for five years. It is this 'dummy' business, the Government will try to stop. There is being printed in Honolulu a form containing a list of questions to be answered and sworn to by holders of right of purchase leases as the Government intends to ascertain as near as possible just how closely the law is being carried out. These answers will include the name of the holder, his residence and place of business, when he went on the land, how long he resided there and such other information as may be deemed necessary."

"Some people have an idea they can live and do business in Hilo or elsewhere and still hold their land; this is not correct. A man with a wife or family might live in Hilo and attend to his business here and hold his land provided his wife or his family had actually resided on the land he had secured under lease. Two places of residence will hardly fill the bill."

"Another mistake has been made by people right here in Hilo. They own homes in the town and have taken up Government land in Olaa or Puna upon favorable terms. The Government will not allow this under any circumstances as the agreements provided that they must not be the owners of other lands. When the time comes for paying up these people will discover their mistake to their cost."

"I do not know what will be done in the matter of settlement associations; those things are attended to entirely at the Land Office in Honolulu and all applications that I have received have been sent down. Under that clause in the Land Act not more than one hundred acres can be assigned to a single family and not less than six families can apply for land to be set apart for their use in this way. My impression is that the lands must be occupied within three months from the time the land is transferred to the association. The only one established in this vicinity is over by Laupahoehoe, which H. B. Gehl is at the head of. So far only seven families have signified their intention of locating there; whether or not there are more to come I do not know. He took up 1700 acres, which means that seventeen families should live there. Eight associations have filed their applications for lands for settlements in Olaa, most of them asking for the same lots, and by actual calculation there would be just enough land in the lots to accommodate two and one-half associations. I have no information as to what the Department will do, probably a compromise of some kind may be effected or the Government may decide to give them land somewhere else. No definite time has been set for the opening of the land and the settlement matters cannot be attended to until this is done."

Flags to Ma & Graves.

To the Public: At least once a year all civilized nations set apart one day, sacred to the memory of those who have fallen in defence of the nation.

The patriotic societies of the city will, as usual, pay respect to the dead, and in order that the public may know the soldier and sailor dead, a small flag will be placed on each grave. The people will confer a great favor on the organizations having this celebration in hand if they will bring, send or cause to be sent, flowers for the graves that without the assistance of all must have but few flowers.

CHINESE BURGLARS.

The "Ex-Corps" and Partner Request Further Time.

Ah Oi, the Chinese who is charged with burglarizing Dr. Murray's residence, was arraigned before Judge Wilcox yesterday morning. With him was his accomplice, Ah Hin. By request of both defendants the case was continued to June 1st.

It seems that Deputy Marshal Chillingworth had quite a time in inducing Ah Hin to "play dead."

The native girls who live in the same house with Ah Oi were the first to see the "dead" man. Chillingworth took care that they viewed the "corpse" from the proper point, in order that they might not be startled by any movement of the eyelids or facial muscles. The Deputy Marshal calmly informed them that unless they told of Ah Oi's whereabouts they would spend the rest of the day and night with the corpse. That was the last straw. They immediately told how Ah Oi had left the house at 2 o'clock in the morning and didn't get back until after 4. This was a good beginning, and from that the detective deputy worked until he had landed Ah Oi behind the bars, with a plentiful supply of strong evidence against him.

A Noon Wedding.

The wedding of George Ordway and Miss Virginia McLean, celebrated at the Catholic Cathedral last Saturday, was quiet, yet pretty. The bride made a handsome appearance clad in a rich gown of white silk, as she walked down the aisle to meet her future husband. The groom also looked well as he clasped the hand of his bride. He was accompanied by his brother, U. J. Ordway, who acted as best man. The bride was given away by her mother, Mrs. C. D. Wright, wife of a prominent San Jose attorney.

After the refreshments Makawao people drove homeward, not only enjoying the entertainment, but the ride by moonlight.

Messrs. George Cummings and George Hayselden acted as floor managers. A train was run bringing Paia, Spreckelsville and Kahului people. The entertainment was arranged by Deputy Sheriff Scott, Dr. Armitage, Dr. Weddick, Judge McKay and other British residents of Wailuku.

Saturday evening, the 26th, the Aloha Lodge, K. of P., gave a grand ball in Spreckelsville Hall, in which 125 residents of Wailuku and Makawao districts participated. The interior of the hall was made attractive by decorations of ferns and red, yellow and blue bunting, the Pythian colors. At one end of the hall was the coat of arms of the order. Mr. E. B. Carley, made an excellent floor manager, and the Wailuku Quintette Club furnished the music. The Kahului R. R. Co.'s train ran from Wailuku and Kahului. Dancing continued until midnight.

Engineer Stoddard of Spreckelsville has recently been appointed manager of Maunaloa plantation of Lanai. Having accepted this position, Mr. Stoddard has been obliged to forego his anticipated trip through the Southern States and Cuba in search of improved methods of machinery in the new H. C. Co's mill, soon to be constructed at Kahului. Apropos of this new mill, which will be the largest and best in the Islands, it is stated that the largest pumping plant in Hawaii net, capable of pumping 75,000,000 gallons a day, will be established at Kahului.

The firm of Fraser & Chalmers is putting in a large pump which will draw water from five wells at Maliko gulch for the use of Hamakua plantation.

The Haiku Sugar Company has added another improvement which is attracting considerable attention. It is a wire trolley for the conveyance of cane from Kahuana to the mill at Hamakua. Lahaina plantation has been using two such trolleys successfully. Albert Horner, of Hawaii, has a patent by which the pulleys which convey the bundles of cane downward can pass the different posts in safety.

Saturday, the 26th, the trustees of Maunaloa Seminary held a meeting at Paia. The bids by Honolulu contractors for the construction of the new school varied from $22,000 to $23,000. It was decided to give California builders a chance to send in estimates. The Seminary will close on June 21st. Two of the teachers—Misses Steele and Ward—have resigned.

A kindergarten school is to be established by Hamakua plantation. The old Hamakua plantation Government school building, recently purchased by the plantation, is to be used for a school, and Miss Steele, now at Maunaloa Seminary, is to be the teacher.

The Board of Registration of Maui has been registering voters at Paia, Hamakua, Kahului and Spreckelsville during the week. The registration at Paia, Hamakua and Kahului is slightly larger than in 1897.

William White, Esq., of Lahaina, is another candidate for "Tunamaka-nana."

NEW OLAA LANDS

Plans for Selection Discussed by a Surveyor.

Great Demand for the Lots—Long Term of Residence Required, Close Questioning Settlements.

(Hawaii Herald.)

The Land Department of the Government has practically decided upon a plan of disposing of the tract of land to be opened in Olaa. Owing to the enormous demand for holdings and the possible desire on the part of some of the applicants to realize largely and promptly the lands will probably be sold at auction to the highest bidder and a clause will be inserted in the agreements providing for a five years' actual residence. Mr. Baldwin admits that this will probably be the plan adopted, but definite instructions to that effect have not yet been received. He said to a reporter for the Herald:

"When I was in Honolulu a couple of weeks ago I had a conversation with Land Commissioner Brown regarding the opening of the lands in Olaa, and he suggested the adopting of the same plan that is in force in Hamakua, and I think the lands will be sold to the highest bidder to be paid for in cash at the time of purchase, or on the same plan as the right of purchase leases where interest only on the amount is collected during the term specified. The five years' residence clause will be inserted so that speculation can be, to a great extent, avoided. A man can buy land under the present terms and put on a 'dummy' to fill the requirements of the law for two years, but it may be difficult for him to do this for five years. It is this 'dummy' business, the Government will try to stop. There is being printed in Honolulu a form containing a list of questions to be answered and sworn to by holders of right of purchase leases as the Government intends to ascertain as near as possible just how closely the law is being carried out. These answers will include the name of the holder, his residence and place of business, when he went on the land, how long he resided there and such other information as may be deemed necessary."

"Some people have an idea they can live and do business in Hilo or elsewhere and still hold their land; this is not correct. A man with a wife or family might live in Hilo and attend to his business here and hold his land provided his wife or his family had actually resided on the land he had secured under lease. Two places of residence will hardly fill the bill."

"Another mistake has been made by people right here in Hilo. They own homes in the town and have taken up Government land in Olaa or Puna upon favorable terms. The Government will not allow this under any circumstances as the agreements provided that they must not be the owners of other lands. When the time comes for paying up these people will discover their mistake to their cost."

"I do not know what will be done in the matter of settlement associations; those things are attended to entirely at the Land Office in Honolulu and all applications that I have received have been sent down. Under that clause in the Land Act not more than one hundred acres can be assigned to a single family and not less than six families can apply for land to be set apart for their use in this way. My impression is that the lands must be occupied within three months from the time the land is transferred to the association. The only one established in this vicinity is over by Laupahoehoe, which H. B. Gehl is at the head of. So far only seven families have signified their intention of locating there; whether or not there are more to come I do not know. He took up 1700 acres, which means that seventeen families should live there. Eight associations have filed their applications for lands for settlements in Olaa, most of them asking for the same lots, and by actual calculation there would be just enough land in the lots to accommodate two and one-half associations. I have no information as to what the Department will do, probably a compromise of some kind may be effected or the Government may decide to give them land somewhere else. No definite time has been set for the opening of the land and the settlement matters cannot be attended to until this is done."

Flags to Ma & Graves.

To the Public: At least once a year all civilized nations set apart one day, sacred to the memory of those who have fallen in defence of the nation.

The patriotic societies of the city will, as usual, pay respect to the dead, and in order that the public may know the soldier and sailor dead, a small flag will be placed on each grave. The people will confer a great favor on the organizations having this celebration in hand if they will bring, send or cause to be sent, flowers for the graves that without the assistance of all must have but few flowers.

"Strangers, they died in a strange land."

Sure Cure for Colds

When the children get their feet wet and take cold give them a hot foot-bath, a bowl of hot drink, a dose of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and put them to bed. The chances are they will be all right in the morning. Continue the Cherry Pectoral a few days, until all cough has disappeared.

Old coughs are also cured; we mean the coughs of bronchitis, weak throats and irritable lungs. Even the hard coughs of consumption are always made easy and sometimes cured by the continued use of

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Your own doctor will explain this to you. He knows that wild cherry bark is the best remedy known to medical science for soothing and healing inflamed throats and lungs. You may rely upon Ayer's Cherry Pectoral to stop your cough.

Beware of worthless imitations. The name Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is blown in the glass of each bottle. Put up in two sizes.

day. I told him it would kill him if he drank it.

Mrs. A. Schmeden—I am Mrs. Schmeden, the wife of A. Schmeden. I saw my husband out at Waikiki about 2 o'clock. I came home first and he came home afterwards. I got home about 4:30 and he got home about 5 o'clock. He came in and mixed up something in a glass and drank it. This morning he tried to take it, but I would not give him a chance. I took it away from him. This evening after he took the first dose he asked for some water, and Rev. S. E. Bishop, being there at the time, handed him a glass of water. When he got the water he put some more of the stuff in the water and tried to drink it, but Dr. Bishop knocked it out of his hand. Then he walked from the house and while going out of the yard told Dr. Bishop that he was going down town to get some more stuff which could not be knocked out of his hand. I then tried to follow him but could not catch sight of him. I notified the police and they told me that they would send up some officers. When I came back to ask at the station house if he had been arrested they told me he was dead. He had been arrested and a Portuguese hackman had brought him home. I did not see this bottle with the carbolic acid at all. It was something else altogether that he took. I did not see anything that took place when the officers were up there, because I was down town. That is his handwriting in that letter marked Exhibit B.

M. S. Perry—I am a hackman. I drove A. Schmeden about 4:30 this afternoon from the corner of King and Nuuanu streets to the premises of Rev. S. E. Bishop on School street. He had been drinking, but was not drunk. We stopped at the Louvre saloon and he treated. He asked Harry Juen how much he owed him and Juen said that it was a dollar. Schmeden then told him that if he did not die that night he would pay him tomorrow. He wanted to stop at the Commercial saloon to get a bottle of whisky, but I told him he had too much already. Then we went on and when we got near the gate he gave me a note written in German which he wished me to keep and give to him tomorrow. He asked me to keep it to myself and not show it to anyone. When he came to get into my hack I could not say whether he came up Nuuanu or King street. That note written in German and marked Exhibit B is the note Schmeden gave to me and which I gave to the coroner.

Mrs. L. M. Cole—I live in School street and I know Mr. and Mrs. Schmeden. I saw Mr. Schmeden this afternoon at my place. It was about 10 minutes to 5 o'clock. I was in the kitchen when Mrs. Schmeden called to me and said that Mr. Schmeden had taken poison. She had a glass in her hand and she said "This is what he has taken." She then handed me the glass. I did not know what it was and so put it aside and told her to call a doctor. The glass contained some red liquid. I saw Mr. Schmeden running around and crying and moaning and some stuff was running out of his mouth. I asked him what was the matter and he said that he had taken poison. I asked him why he wanted to do such a thing and he said that Mrs. Schmeden wanted him to do it and so he did it. He then threw himself on the grass, moaning and saying that by 12 o'clock all would be over. Just then Rev. S. E. Bishop came and began talking to him and I went away and did not see him again till he came into the kitchen and handed me the key. I thanked him. Just then the police came and he asked me for the key again. I gave it to him, as he said he wanted to change his clothing. While going towards the door he took a bottle out of his pocket and drank about half of the contents, when the police officer knocked it out of his hand. I had called out that Schmeden was taking poison, and the officer grappled with him and knocked the bottle out of his hand and made him spit out some of the fluid. I mixed some mustard with warm water, but he would not take it. He fell on the kitchen veranda and a little while later was dead. He and his wife had been quarrelling for about a week.

Rev. S. E. Bishop—Between 4 and 5 o'clock, nearly 5, I was summoned to go over into Mrs. Cole's yard in regard to this man having taken poison and making an outcry. I hastened over and found him lying on his back outdoors, presumably unconscious. His mouth was discolored with purple stains. I examined him and found nothing unusual in his condition. I told my daughter, Mrs. Shaw, to telephone for a doctor. Schmeden asked me to help him up. He got on his feet and immediately fell over backwards again. I helped him to his feet again, when he commenced to violently reproach his wife. After this he asked me to get him a glass of water. His wife went for the water and handed the glass to me. I handed it to Schmeden, who was then standing on the veranda. He rushed hastily into the house with the glass in his hand and I rushed after him. He was in the act of drinking a dark, purplish mixture. I knocked it out of his hand, splashing some on my own clothing. He changed his trousers and started out of the place, and he walked so steadily that I was in doubt whether he was as drunk as I had thought him to be. Just as Schmeden went out Dr. Alvarez, who had been summoned, arrived. The doctor examined the glass from which Schmeden had been drinking and pronounced the liquid to be permanganate of potash, with no odor of carbolic acid. Dr. Alvarez then left and I went to dinner at 5:30. The alarm was shortly given again that he had come back. My son-in-law, Mr. Shaw, had in the meantime telephoned to the police station. After a while two policemen came up, followed by the patrol wagon. That is all I know about it.

Dr. S. B. Emerson—I am the police surgeon and a physician. I have examined the body of the man lying in cell No. 3 and find that the body is dead—life is extinct. I pressed the mouth open and find that the tongue is roughened and discolored. It might be caused by permanganate of potash in a strong solution.

A. Manase—I am a police officer. I was up at Mrs. Cole's place on School street this afternoon. I saw Schmeden up there. He was on the veranda. I told him to come with us. He asked to be allowed to change his clothes and said he wanted to go to Mrs. Cole's to get the key. When he got on the veranda he began to run into the house and I chased him and saw him drink poison. I finally succeeded in getting the bottle away from him. I tried to make him vomit, but he would not. My companion, Nelson, ran for a doctor and shortly after that the man was dead. In getting the poison from him it was spilled all over my hands. After a while a hack came and we brought the body to the police station.

The procession will move promptly at 2:30 p. m., proceeding up Alakea street, to Emma street, to Vineyard street, to Fort street, to School street, to Nuuanu street, to Nuuanu cemetery.

Quick Passage from London.

A smart passage from London was made by the British ship Kilmorey, A. B. Milne, which arrived in port Saturday afternoon last with general cargo from London. She sailed from London February 8th, passing Dungeness on the 16th and from discharging pilot is 99 days out. This is one of the best voyages of late, having been beaten eight days some years ago. The Kilmorey carried away her fore top-gallant mast in rounding the Horn, which caused a loss of some time. Had this not occurred the Kilmorey would have recorded the quickest passage ever made from London to Honolulu. She is one of the cleanest ships ever sailing into this port, rivaling the famous bark Invermark, which, when in port some months ago, set all the waterfront agog with her spick and span appearance. The crew are as happy and contented a lot of sailors as ever hauled on a rope, and take as much interest in the welfare of the Kilmorey as the officers themselves. Among the cargo of the Kilmorey is a large pipe organ and a quantity of bicycles.

B Win Again.

The return rifle shoot between Companies B and G was held Saturday. It again resulted in favor of the former team. The score was 775 to 752, giving the victory to B by a margin of 23 points. The highest individual score was 43.

LAND AND ALTAR

Patriotism is Aply Defined From Pulpit.

REV. MR. KENSAID'S SERMON

Special Service With Display of Flags—Why Wars Have Been Fought Heroes.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Yesterday evening patriotic services were held in the Central Union church. The interior was prettily decorated with large American and Hawaiian flags, draped at the entrance and about the altar and organ. The singing of the national songs was spirited, one of the most pleasing features being the singing of Hawaii Pono by the Kamehameha and Kawaiahao girls. Following was the program:

Organ Prelude Patriotic Melodies
Congregational Hymn
"God Save Our Native Land" Responsive Reading 121 Psalm Anthem—Te Deum Dudley Buck
President Lincoln's Gettysburg Speech
Prayer
Hawaiian National Hymn
The Kamehameha and Kawaiahao Girl Schools.
Congregational Hymn
The Battle Hymn of the Republic
Sermon "The Love of Country" Congregational Hymn America
Organ Postlude Patriotic Melodies

Rev. Mr. Kensaid took for his text Ps. 137:5-6. If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning.

This year on the 30th day of May wherever the starry flag waves, the United States will remember her dead and heap the graves with choicest blossoms. Reverently will the most beautiful flowers be placed on the grassy mounds, wherever soldiers sleep.

Patriotism is an old word. It is fraught with no merely secular meaning, but expresses lofty feeling and high inspiration. It was the voice of God that privileged to Abraham the possession of country, the first of the covenants, and the descendants of that same Abraham are now walking through the world seeking the open door through which they may pass to the land of their fathers.

We have been mainly a nation of peace. But all of our wars, from the Revolution to the one recently ended, have been filled with the spirit of self sacrifice the heroic devotion to country. Already the Rebellion seems like a dream to many. A generation which does not remember the great struggle has already risen up. But there are some of us who can distinctly recall the thrilling hours from the time when that shot went whistling across Charleston Bay calling a great people to arms, to the time when under the apple tree of Appomattox, Lee laid down his sword. We turn with reverence to the great names that illumine the pages of those dark days. We turn with feelings of sympathetic sorrow to the desolated homes, the bloody trenches and the dreary prisons. Bravely they lived, heroically they died. Beyond the grave God has rewarded them. We will not forget those men who laid down their lives for the cause sublime, nor will we forget the lessons inspiring love of country.

There is in every humble breast the desire to be remembered. Oblivion is a state into which none of us want to pass. To be forgotten is the greatest sorrow of the death parting. This very desire to be remembered, to do something which will keep the name unforgotten, exists in the heart of every American soldier. To this call the Nation responds and every year, with tenderest blossoms, the graves of our heroic dead are remembered, the roll is called again. This is the meaning of Decoration Day.

From the deeds of our soldier dead we learn a lesson of noble self-sacrifice. The cup of water handed by Sir Phillip Sidney to his dying comrade has been paralleled many times throughout our national life. Would it not be well to tell our children the story of our liberty and what it cost and thus inspire them with love of country. A nation without memories, it has been said, is a nation without liberty. The glorious deeds of the nation's struggles are watchwords which rear a bulwark of defense around a people's liberty. We should hold ourselves responsible in the maintenance of those principles for which our soldiers died. "Go, stranger, and tell the Lacedaemonians that we fell in defense of our country and obedience to her laws." were the noble words of the old Spartans. Decoration day is not only for remembrance of the dead heroes, but for inspiration in upholding those principles for which our country stands.

We should look to the patriotism of both the present and the future. All men wherever the starry folds float, despite race or color, shall be free and equal—lest we forget. On this is our liberty founded. No man can be truly patriotic without being religious. The highest kind of patriotism is akin to the highest kind of religion. And it would be well when you teach your child to say "Our Father who art in heaven," to add "God bless and save our land."

In the morning Children's Day was observed. The attendance was large, nearly every member of the Sunday school being there. The sermon was adapted to the occasion and appropriate music was rendered.

A Military Funeral.

The funeral of A. Schmeden, who committed suicide Friday evening by taking carbolic acid, was held yesterday under the auspices of Company F, N. G. H. The ceremonies were enacted at the undertaking parlors of H. H. Williams, Rev. G. L. Pearson officiating. There was a large attendance both of members of the N. G. H. and of employees of the Hawaiian Electric Company. The body was interred in Nuuanu Cemetery with full military honors, Company F firing volleys and sounding taps.

Asthma, Bronchitis.

Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne

Vice-Chancellor SIR W. PAGE WOOD stated publicly in court that DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the INVENTOR OF CHLORODYNE; that the whole story of the defendant, Freeman, was deliberately untrue, and he regretted to say it had been sworn to. See The Times, July 15, 1894.

Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne is a liquid medicine which relieves PAIN OF EVERY KIND, affords a calm, refreshing sleep WITHOUT HEADACHE, and INVIGORATES the nervous system when exhausted. It is the Great Specific for Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhoea.

The General Board of Health, London, reports that it acts as a CHARM; one dose generally sufficient.

Dr. Gibson, Army Medical Staff, Calcutta, states: "Two doses completely cured me of diarrhoea."

Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne is the TRUE PALLIATIVE in Neuralgia, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Rheumatism.

Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne rapidly cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Spasms, Colic, Palpitation, Hysteria.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.—The Innumerable Sale of this Remedy has given rise to many Unscrupulous Imitations.

N. B.—Every Bottle of Genuine Chlorodyne bears on the Government Stamp the name of the inventor, Dr. J. Collis Browne. Sold in bottles, 1s. 10d., 2s. 6d. and 4s. 6d., by all chemists.

TIMELY TOPICS

April 12th, 1899.

The cool weather we are having now won't last long, all probabilities are that after this cold snap is over we may have hotter weather than ever we had before. If this is the case, we would advise you to secure some means of keeping your butter and vegetables fresh, and at the same time making your ice bill a small item of expense.

If you are open for suggestions let us mention a few things about our Alaska Refrigerators.

We can honestly say it is the best constructed refrigerator ever put on the market. It will keep provisions longer and use less ice than any other made.

The inner frame is made from perfectly odorless wood, and is lined with zinc, polished as bright as a mirror, presenting a very clean and attractive appearance.

They are also supplied with Patent Syphon and solid metal shelves.

Our space will not permit us to say anything more in regard to this article, so we would like you to call and inspect them yourself. We have them in all sizes and are from $15 to $50.

If you get more ice than your refrigerator will hold we would advise you to get one of our

Ice Chests.

We also have them in all sizes, from $8.50 to $25.00.

We have just received some very pretty

Water
Coolers.

These coolers have wrought iron lining, with pure agate enamel, preserving the water and freeing it from metallic oxide, which is impossible to avoid with ordinary lining. Sizes are 2, 3 and 6 gallons, and range in prices according.

AT THE EXHIBIT

Notes on Pieces in Kilohana Art League Gallery.

A HIGH CLASS OF WORK

Oil Paintings and Water Colors—Hitchcock Tel. & What He Likes.
Other Contributors

It may seem trite to name the exhibition now open at the rooms of the Kilohana Art League the best yet produced by local talent, but to the most casual observer a marked improvement over any preceding exhibit is felt, and to one who has followed the growth of the league from its beginning, the appreciable advance is most gratifying and not a little surprising.

The present rooms of the league are larger and much better adapted to the needs of the society. The tinting and lighting of the walls are well adapted to the purpose and prove an excellently lit background for the pictures, offsetting, but not interfering with them. The catalogue of the spring exhibition shows 104 numbers, of which 34 are oil paintings, 49 water colors, 16 black and whites and several examples of pyrography and wood carving. In all a very satisfactory and creditable showing, although the line of china paintings, usually so prominent a feature, is missing.

The largest single exhibitor is D. Howard Hitchcock, who also shows the largest canvas. His exhibit embraces a wide range of subjects and shows a marked versatility of treatment. His largest canvas (Konahuani, No. 19), perhaps attracts most attention, and has already found a purchaser.

In a talk with the artist one is rather surprised at his expressing a preference for some of his smaller canvases. Said he: "That soft, wet evening effect (No. 20, Waiakae) embodies much of my inner delight in dealing with soft greys and quiet, subdued color as does the canvas next to it (No. 23, When All is Sweet and Still), only, as you see, in a differing color note; the one cool and gray, the other soft and warmer in the subdued, mellow light of twilight, and it is these soft, quiet effects, rather than the stronger, that appeal most deeply to my inner consciousness."

The artist also mentioned Nos. 17 and 27 as canvases he enjoyed painting.

Turning from his own work to that of Mott-Smith, he spoke in the pleasantest manner of the rich, glowing color of that artist's work. "Alive," he called it, and of his ability as a portrait painter, of which the two studies, Nos. 18 and 24, are but indications of wider abilities, and which he hoped the patrons of the exhibitions will have fuller taste soon.

Mrs. Helen Kelley shows a number of her daintily colored, pretty flower pieces, and also a number of landscapes in water color. The latter, however, do not equal her still-life and flower studies, which are always sweet and fresh in color.

Nos. 37 and 48 are particularly pleasing to the casual visitor. It is in Nos. 53 and 60, however, that one feels the artist has caught some of the spirit of art in higher lines, and all will look for further advance along these same lines.

It is a pleasure to have Miss Parke's clear, crisp water colors among those on the wall. Nos. 45, 50 and 65 are particularly pleasing in their clear atmospheric qualities and strong, sure handling, points that carry them much higher than many of the neighboring pictures.

Among the other contributors in water colors one notices the advance into a more free and broader style in the work of Mrs. A. Willis, who exhibits quite a number of studies and sketches.

A new name among the exhibitors is that of Mrs. C. F. Pond, and a promising addition to the ranks of local talent, judging from her water colors, which express a strength and feeling for color that many of our local painters may well emulate.

Other contributors to this truly interesting exhibition are Mrs. H. M. von Holt, Mr. Philip H. Dodge, Mrs. J. A. Campbell, Miss Irmgard Macfarlane, Miss Helen Jordan, Mr. H. Mist, Mrs. E. A. Jones, Miss Hoffman, Mrs. W. M. Graham, Mr. Walter Pinkham and Mr. Yeong Chong.

Reform in Awnings.

Marshal Brown is calling the attention of shopkeepers about town to sections 345 and 1093 of the penal laws of 1897. These paragraphs include the regulations for awnings. So many of the protestations against sunshine are at variance with the rules for construction and maintenance that sweeping changes must be made at once. There have been a number of accidents as the result of low or poorly constructed awnings. The law is that the awning must be seven feet in the clear above the walk, and that they must be "plumb" with the edge of the walk. The Police Department will enforce the regulation to the letter.

Next Theatrical Season.

The theatrical season here to be directed by Mr. McVay, late leading man for Janet Waldorf, will open probably on the 10th of June. The company will be a well trained one, to include a number of specially selected people now on the way from the Mainland. The repertoire, as now suggested, will prove popular. Some of the plays to be presented are: "Julius Caesar," "Othello," "Merchant of Venice," and for departure from the Shakespearean, "Monte Cristo," "Old Homestead" and "Confusion."

HONOLULU JOINS

In Paying Tribute to Doan's Backache Kidney Pills.

A young man went to a wealthy and successful manufacturer and applied for employment.

"What can you do?" the manufacturer asked, and the young man proceeded to tell of his ability.

"But I don't want to know what you say you can do," the gentleman replied. "Let me know what others say you have done; bring me recommendations from people I know and can trust."

It's the same way with the little conqueror and the public; people want to know what has been done. Honolulu people are joining the myriads of others in making public the works of this little modern wonder, and what your neighbors say should convince the skeptic. The endorsement of citizens is the proof that goes with every box of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills.

Mr. W. F. Williams of this city is a lighthouse keeper, and he has held this position for the last thirty years. He says: "I was for a number of years, one of that numerous army of people who suffer with their backs. Mine ached and pained me to no small extent, so that I was glad when I heard of a remedy for it—Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. I obtained some of these at the Hollister Drug Co's store, and took them. They gave me great relief, and I make this short narration of my experiences for the benefit of others who, perhaps, do not know that nearly all backache arises from the kidneys, and the best medicine for it is Doan's Backache and Kidney Pills."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box, for sale by all druggists; sent by mail on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

Hilo Briefs.

(Hawaii Herald.)

Henry Espinda, formerly of the Honolulu police force, has been appointed Captain of the Oiaa police, and will assume his duties in a few days. Mr. Espinda was an efficient officer in Honolulu for several years, and resigned from the force a few weeks ago. He is a son-in-law of Captain B. H. Brown.

J. U. Smith, who has been for several weeks ill with malarial fever, is just getting out again. He shows the effect of his severe illness, but is now, it is a pleasure to state, well on the way to good health.

Colonel G. F. Little delivered an interesting and common sense temperance lecture at the Hall Church last Sunday evening. Rev. Mr. Desha translating into Hawaiian.

The Roderick Dhu arrived in Hilo on May 20th, ten days from San Francisco. She brought a cargo valued at $16,960.62, and the following passengers:

Miss C. J. M. Jones, Miss A. B. Horner, Miss M. E. Horner, Howard Horner, A. F. Rooker, Geo. A. Hastings, Tony M. Salvador, M. L. Emory, M. B. Meabury, Geo. L. Young.

COMING FIRST CITY.

(Hilo Tribune.)

When the Collector of Customs for this port reports that the month of April shows larger receipts for his department than the whole of any previous quarter, even pessimists are inexcusable for indulging in their favorite occupation, and optimists have a right to feel encouraged and persevere in the same "sort of feeling." The steady and rapid growth of commerce, both exports and imports, has been from time to time commented upon in this paper, and it is gratifying to see that even in a time of apparent depression and sluggishness of business which has marked the last few weeks, that business is actually doing and that preparations are being made for an advance all along the line in the near future. With the new plantations under way, the new capital coming to promote them and the new railway and shipping lines to transport their products and open up still more country, Hilo can have confidence in the prediction of many who have visited us recently that we shall ultimately be the "First City of Hawaii."

Bozema, scald head, bites, itching of the skin of any sort, instantly and permanently cured. Doan's Ointment, at any chemist's, 50 cents.

DR. TITUS M. COAN

Successful Career of a Son of the Islands.

Is a Prominent Literary Factor—Well Established in New York City—Born at Hilo.

The New York Bureau of Revision, which was established in 1880 by Dr. Titus M. Coan, is unique in position and success. In a circular letter sent out by Dr. Coan its purposes and methods are explained.

They are, in brief, to serve both the artistic aims and practical interests of writers; and especially to aid all authors, whether experienced or not, who desire excellence in their work. It seeks to do this by the skilled revision, correction and emendation of all manuscripts; by letters of honest and competent criticism; by advice as to authorship and publication. The bureau is, in fact, a chair of English literature. It aids and advises beginners and collaborates with writers already skilled. In its letters of criticism it tells how the thing is done; in its revision does the thing.

The objects of the bureau are practical. The search for a publisher costs time and trouble. On agreement with the author, hopeful manuscripts, after revision are forwarded to the editors or publishers who are most likely to accept them. Books are seen through the press; good titles are suggested for author or publisher; awards of literary prizes are made for schools and periodicals. All work is done in consideration of a fee agreed upon by the contracting parties.

The circular contains warm letters of commendation from able men, among whom are George William Curtis, James Russell Lowell, Charles Dudley Warner, Joseph W. Harper and Edmund Clarence Steadman.

Hawaii has the interest in Dr. Titus M. Coan that he is a son of the Islands. He was born at Hilo, and attended Punahou College in Honolulu. As child and youth he gave great promise and has made for himself a name in the world of letters. His father was Rev. Titus Coan, one of the pioneer missionaries to Hawaii, who became known in the States as a writer on volcanoes and lavas. Rev. Titus Coan was very successful as a Christian worker among the native Hawaiians. The Coan and Bingham families are related by marriage.

They Refused Duty.

Sixteen sailors mutinied on the W. G. Hall off the Kan coast last Sunday and refused duty. It was all caused by a dispute over a barrel of pol when the sailors took without permission from the steamer and went ashore to have a luau. Not returning on time, another boat was sent ashore by Captain Haglund, and the boat which the sailors had taken, together with the pol, was taken back to the steamer.

Afterwards another boat was sent for the sailors who came aboard in a sullen mood and did no work all the rest of the trip. Some half a dozen sailors, the remainder of the crew, had to pitch in and work extra. The captain and officers all took a hand and were boat steers and able seamen. The sailors who refused to join the mutiny were almost worn out getting the Kan and Kona freight aboard, and their wrists were swollen to huge proportions from constant heavy pulling at the oars. The usual cargo of sugar from Kan and cattle from Kona was finally loaded, and the Hall arrived in port on schedule time yesterday at noon.

Serious Tumble.

A native living at Paukolo was seriously injured last night. He had stepped out on the verandah running in front of the second story, and in leaning against the railing it suddenly gave way. He fell to the ground and sustained an ugly cut in his side, and internal injuries. He was taken to the Queen's Hospital.

A RELIC OF THE WAR.

Many old soldiers now feel the effects of the hard service they endured during the war. Mr. Geo. S. Anderson of Rossville, York county, Penn., who saw the hardest kind of service at the front, is now frequently troubled with rheumatism. "I had a severe attack lately," he says, "and procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It did me much good that I would like to know what you would charge me for one dozen bottles." Mr. Anderson wanted it both for his own use and to supply it to his friends and neighbors, as every family should have a bottle of it in their home, not only for rheumatism, but lame back, sprains, swellings, cuts, bruises and burns, for which it is unequalled. For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents for H. I., and all druggists and dealers.

Hilo Briefs.

(Hawaii Herald.)

Henry Espinda, formerly of the Honolulu police force, has been appointed Captain of the Olua police, and will assume his duties in a few days. Mr. Espinda was an efficient officer in Honolulu for several years, and resigned from the force a few weeks ago. He is a son-in-law of Captain B. H. Brown.

J. U. Smith, who has been for several weeks ill with malarial fever, is just getting out again. He shows the effect of his severe illness, but is now, it is a pleasure to state, well on the way to good health.

Colonel G. F. Little delivered an interesting and common sense temperance lecture at the Hall Church last Sunday evening. Rev. Mr. Desha translating into Hawaiian.

The Roderick Dhu arrived in Hilo on May 20th, ten days from San Francisco. She brought a cargo valued at $16,960.62, and the following passengers:

Miss C. J. M. Jones, Miss A. B. Horner, Miss M. E. Horner, Howard Horner, A. F. Rooker, Geo. A. Hastings, Tony M. Salvador, M. L. Emory, M. B. Meabury, Geo. L. Young.

COMING FIRST CITY.

(Hilo Tribune.)

When the Collector of Customs for this port reports that the month of April shows larger receipts for his department than the whole of any previous quarter, even pessimists are inexcusable for indulging in their favorite occupation, and optimists have a right to feel encouraged and persevere in the same "sort of feeling." The steady and rapid growth of commerce, both exports and imports, has been from time to time commented upon in this paper, and it is gratifying to see that even in a time of apparent depression and sluggishness of business which has marked the last few weeks, that business is actually doing and that preparations are being made for an advance all along the line in the near future. With the new plantations under way, the new capital coming to promote them and the new railway and shipping lines to transport their products and open up still more country, Hilo can have confidence in the prediction of many who have visited us recently that we shall ultimately be the "First City of Hawaii."

Eczema, scald head, hives, itches, of the skin of any sort, instantly and permanently cured. Doan's Ointment, at any chemist's, 50 cents.

DR. TITUS M. COAN

Successful Career of a Son of the Islands.

is a Prominent Literary Factor—Well Established in New York City—
Born at Hilo.

The New York Bureau of Revision, which was established in 1880 by Dr. Titus M. Coan, is unique in position and success. In a circular letter sent out by Dr. Coan its purposes and methods are explained.

They are, in brief, to serve both the artistic aims and practical interests of writers; and especially to aid all authors, whether experienced or not, who desire excellence in their work. It seeks to do this by the skilled revision, correction and emendation of all manuscripts; by letters of honest and competent criticism; by advice as to authorship and publication. The bureau is, in fact, a chair of English literature. It aids and advises beginners and collaborates with writers already skilled. In its letters of criticism it tells how the thing is done; in its revision does the thing.

The objects of the bureau are practical. The search for a publisher costs time and trouble. On agreement with the author, hopeful manuscripts, after revision are forwarded to the editors or publishers who are most likely to accept them. Books are seen through the press; good titles are suggested for author or publisher; awards of literary prizes are made for schools and periodicals. All work is done in consideration of a fee agreed upon by the contracting parties.

The circular contains warm letters of commendation from able men, among whom are George William Curtis, James Russell Lowell, Charles Dudley Warner, Joseph W. Harper and Edmund Clarence Steadman.

Hawaii has the interest in Dr. Titus M. Coan that he is a son of the Islands. He was born at Hilo, and attended Punahou College in Honolulu. As child and youth he gave great promise and has made for himself a name in the world of letters. His father was Rev. Titus Coan, one of the pioneer missionaries to Hawaii, who became known in the States as a writer on volcanoes and lavas. Rev. Titus Coan was very successful as a Christian worker among the native Hawaiians. The Coan and Bingham families are related by marriage.

They Refused Duty.

Sixteen sailors mutinied on the W. G. Hall off the Kau coast last Sunday and refused duty. It was all caused by a dispute over a barrel of poi which the sailors took without permission from the steamer and went ashore to have a luau. Not returning on time, another boat was sent ashore by Captain Haglund, and the boat which the sailors had taken, together with the poi, was taken back to the steamer.

Afterwards another boat was sent for the sailors who came aboard in a sullen mood and did no work all the rest of the trip. Some half a dozen sailors, the remainder of the crew, had to pitch in and work extra. The captain and officers all took a hand and were boat steers and able seamen. The sailors who refused to join the mutiny were almost worn out getting the Kau and Kona freight aboard, and their wrists were swollen to huge proportions from constant heavy pulling at the oars. The usual cargo of sugar from Kau and cattle from Kona was finally loaded, and the Hall arrived in port on schedule time yesterday at noon.

Serious Tumble

A native living at Puukolo was seriously injured last night. He had stepped out on the verandah running in front of the second story, and in leaning against the railing it suddenly gave way. He fell to the ground and sustained an ugly cut in his side, and internal injuries. He was taken to the Queen's Hospital.

A RELIC OF THE WAR.

Many old soldiers now feel the effects of the hard service they endured during the war. Mr. Geo. S. Anderson of Rossville, York county, Penn., who saw the hardest kind of service at the front, is now frequently troubled with rheumatism. "I had a severe attack lately," he says, "and procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It did as much good that I would like to know what you would charge me for one dozen bottles." Mr. Anderson wanted it both for his own use and to supply it to his friends and neighbors, as every family should have a bottle of it in their home, not only for rheumatism, but lame back, sprains, swellings, cuts, bruises and burns, for which it is unequalled. For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents for H. I., and all druggists and dealers.

A KNIGHT DANCE

Maui People Entertained at Spreckelsville Hall.

Aloha Lodge Members the Hosts—
Hall Decorations and Music—
Those Who Attended.

Paia, Maui, May 27, 1899.
Editor P. C. A.: Aloha Lodge, No. 3, K. of P., gave a grand ball at Spreckelsville Hall Saturday evening. It was one of the largest gatherings that has taken place for a long time. Too much credit cannot be given to the members of Aloha Lodge for the way that everything was arranged, and every one present went home well pleased. Dancing was kept up until 12 o'clock. The guests were served with refreshments by the Knights present, who claimed that they made first-class waiters. E. B. Carley acted as master of ceremonies for the evening. Music was furnished by the Waihee band. Everybody was delighted with the decorations of the hall, as it was one solid mass of ferns and flags.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lowrie, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Van der Naillen, Mr. and Mrs. C. Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Sanborn, Mr. and Mrs. J. Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. C. Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Duggan, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Carley, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Sender, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. W. Decota, Mr. and Mrs. D. Petty, Mr. and Mrs. W. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. L. Sabey, Dr. and Mrs. J. Weddick, Capt. and Mrs. Lermond, Mr. and Mrs. H. Robinson, Misses Smith (4), Stack, Lowrie, Scriminger, Morris, Austin, Cummings, Allen, Mounce, Messrs. Lowrie, Zellers, McLane, Stoddard, Adams, Burton, Decota, Scriminger, Wilber, Allen, Church, Battersby, Kirkland, McKay, Filler, Baldwin, Hayelden, Bissen, Lind, Myer, Toms, James, Cummings, Scott, Keliouli, Stack, Quill, Auld, Crouse, Sommerfield, Boote, Crook.

The members of Aloha Lodge wish to express their thanks to Manager W. J. Lowrie for his kindness for the use of the hall, which was profusely illuminated by electric lights. It was cool, especially for the ones who took part in the dancing.

Giant Powder Result.

The report was current yesterday that a native fisherman living on the other side of the Island had been severely injured in an explosion. He was using giant powder in making his catches when suddenly the powerful explosive went off. He was severely injured about the head and face and one of his arms was destroyed.

BORN.

NOBLITT—In this city, May 25, 1899, to the wife of Dr. W. S. Noblitt, a son.

(Hilo Tribune.)

WALKER—At Puna, Hilo, on May 25, 1899, to the wife of S. G. Walker, a son.

DIED.

KEAWEPOOLE—In Honolulu, May 28, 1899, Miss Maui Keaweipoole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lapana Keaweipoole, aged 14 years. A pupil of Kamehameha Girls' School.

CARTER—At Makao, Koolaula, Oahu, May 29, 1899, Grace, the youngest daughter of Dr. A. B. Carter and Mrs. Carter, aged 8 months.

The Cabinet has decided that Kamehameha Day will be celebrated this year on June 12th, as the 11th falls on Sunday.

The big steel ship "Eoskine" M. Phelps is at Oceanic wharf taking on 1000 bags of sugar. She will sail for New York in about a fortnight. Capt. Graham is giving his fine ship a new coat of paint and the light spruce top gallant masts are being replaced by heavier material.

The Albatross, a new type of torpedo-boat destroyer, just built at the yards of Thornycroft & Co. for the British Government, has attained a record of thirty-three knots, making this record on her trial trip, with the Admiralty officials on board. A London dispatch of April 11th states that this is the highest speed reached by any war vessel. The destroyer is 227 feet long and 21 feet beam, with a draught of 8½ feet.

NOTICE TO SHIPMASTERS.

U. S. Branch Hydrographic Office, San Francisco, Cal.
By communicating with the Branch Hydrographic Office in San Francisco, captains of vessels who will co-operate with the Hydrographic Office by sending the meteorological observations suggested by the office, can have forwarded to them at any desired port, and free of expense, the monthly pilot charts of the North Pacific Ocean and the latest information regarding the dangers of navigation in the waters which they frequent.

Mariners are requested to report to the office dangers discovered, or any other information which can be utilized for correcting charts or sailing directions, or in the publication of the pilot charts of the North Pacific.

A KNIGHT DANCE

Maui People Entertained at Spreckelsville Hall.

Hall Decorations and Music—
Those Who Attended.

Pala, Maui, May 27, 1899.
Editor P. C. A.: Aloha Lodge, No. 3, K. of P., gave a grand ball at Spreckelsville Hall Saturday evening. It was one of the largest gatherings that has taken place for a long time. Too much credit cannot be given to the members of Aloha Lodge for the way that everything was arranged, and every one present went home well pleased. Dancing was kept up until 12 o'clock. The guests were served with refreshments by the Knights present, who claimed that they made first-class waiters. E. B. Carley acted as master of ceremonies for the evening. Music was furnished by the Waihee band. Everybody was delighted with the decorations of the hall, as it was one solid mass of ferns and flags.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lowrie, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Van der Nallien, Mr. and Mrs. C. Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Sanborn, Mr. and Mrs. J. Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. C. Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Duggan, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Carley, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Sender, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. W. Decota, Mr. and Mrs. D. Petty, Mr. and Mrs. W. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. L. Sabey, Dr. and Mrs. J. Weddick, Capt. and Mrs. Lermond, Mr. and Mrs. H. Robinson, Misses Smith (4), Stack, Lowrie, Scriminger, Morris, Austin, Cummings, Allen, Mourer, Messrs. Lowrie, Zellers, McLane, Stoddard, Adams, Burton, Decota, Scriminger, Wilber, Allen, Church, Battersby, Kirkland, McKay, Filler, Baldwin, Hayselden, Bissan, Lind, Myer, Toms, James, Cummings, Scott, Kellum, Stack, Quill, Auld, Crouse, Sommerfield, Boote, Crook.

The members of Aloha Lodge wish to express their thanks to Manager W. J. Lowrie for his kindness for the use of the hall, which was profusely illuminated by electric lights. It was cool, especially for the ones who took part in the dancing.

Giant Powder Result.

The report was current yesterday that a native fisherman living on the other side of the island had been severely injured in an explosion. He was using giant powder in making his catches when suddenly the powerful explosive went off. He was severely injured about the head and face and one of his arms was destroyed.

BORN.

NOBLETT—In this city, May 25, 1899, to the wife of Dr. W. S. Noblett, a son.

(Hilo Tribune.)

WALKER—At Puna, Oahu, May 25, 1899, to the wife of S. G. Walker, surveyor, a son.

DIED.

KEAWEPOOLE—In Honolulu, May 28, 1899, Miss Maui Keawepoole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lapana Keawepoole, aged 14 years. A pupil of Kamehameha Girls' School.

CARTER—At Makao, Koolauloa, Oahu, May 29, 1899, Grace, the youngest daughter of Dr. A. B. Carter and Mrs. Carter, aged 8 months.

The Cabinet has decided that Kamehameha Day will be celebrated this year on June 12th, as the 11th falls on Sunday.

The big steel ship Erskine M. Phelps is at Oceanic wharf taking on 1000 bags of sugar. She will sail for New York in about a fortnight. Capt. Graham is giving his fine ship a new coat of paint and the light spruce top gallant masts are being replaced by heavier material.

The Albatross, a new type of torpedo-boat destroyer, just built at the yards of Thornycroft & Co. for the British Government, has attained a speed of thirty-three knots, making this record on her trial trip, with the Admiralty officials on board. A London dispatch of April 11th states that this is the highest speed reached by any war vessel. The destroyer is 227 feet long and 21 feet beam, with a draught of 8½ feet.

NOTICE TO SHIPMASTERS.

U. S. Branch Hydrographic Office, San Francisco, Cal.
By communicating with the Branch Hydrographic Office in San Francisco, captains of vessels who will co-operate with the Hydrographic Office by recording the meteorological observations suggested by the office, can have forwarded to them at any desired port, and free of expense, the monthly pilot charts of the North Pacific Ocean and the latest information regarding the dangers to navigation in the waters which they frequent.

Mariners are requested to report to the office dangers discovered, or any other information which can be utilized for correcting charts or sailing directions, or in the publication of the pilot charts of the North Pacific.
